10 Fined After Gambling Raid

Band Plays Tonight To Void Tag Days

Senior high school's band will offer music instead of tags to Mansfield residents tonight and tomorrow.

If the $1,500 needed to maintain the Senior high Tyger band and orchestra is realized from the concerts, there'll be no band tag day this year.

But E. L. Channell, chairman of publicity for the two-night concerts, expressed concern today lest the hoped-for response fail to materialize.

Ticket sales are lagging, he said, adding that plenty of tickets may be obtained from band members, Band Parents club members and directors of the Tyger Booster club, as well as at Tawse's Pharmacy, Hunt's News Depot and Sam Fox's jewelry store.

"We hope to raise at least $1,500 through these concerts," Channell said. "It takes at least that much to maintain the Senior high band and orchestra, keep them in supplies and their uniforms in good condition.

"We're counting on Mansfield to see that we continue to take care of our championship musical organization. We owe it to them to see that they are taken care of."

The concerts will consist of numbers by both orchestra and band groups and speciality numbers in between. Both vocal and instrumental solos will intersperse the programs, which will start at 8 p. m. each night.

Legion Post Gets Big German Gun

Howitzer to Be Shown In Front of Home

McVey post, American Legion today got another big gun to replace the one which used to be on display in front of the home on Park avenue west.

A two-ton, 150 mm. German howitzer was unloaded today at the Pennsylvania freight depot and hauled to the post home.

The gun, completely demilitarized, was obtained from the War department. It was shipped from the Raritan arsenal, Metuchen, N. J.

The old 77 mm. gun from the first World war which stood in front of the post home for several years was melted down during the scrap salvage drive in 1942.

Two representatives of the Mansfield Army and Navy recruiting offices were present when the gun arrived at 10:30 a. m. today.

The welcoming and unloading committee included Staff Sgt. Logan Campbell jr., Sgt. Donald L. Richissin, Seaman First Class Robert E. Childs, K. W. Kemper, gunners mate second class, and Trentiss E. Barney, ex-member of 191st Tank Battalion, 45th division, in World War II.

Police Push Attack Probe

Mansfield detectives today were still trying to solve the mystery attack on Mrs. Joseph Bookmyer, 569 McPherson street, in her home Tuesday afternoon.

The housewife, confined to General hospital with severe bruises and shock, was still too ill to talk to detectives yesterday, officers said.

Meager details of what took place were given to police shortly after officers found the woman in the bedroom of her home. She said a man had entered her home and beat her. Her condition was reported improved today at the hospital.

Police were called by a neighbor who said Mrs. Bookmyer broke into a party line conversation and asked for help.

Jews Claim Victories

JERUSALEM —(AP)— The Jews claimed victories today in fights ranging some 15 miles down the Jordan river valley from the Sea of Galilee.

Jewish sources in Haifa said during the night Jews captured the Arab stronghold of Beisan, valley town about 15 miles south of the sea used as a way station by Arab warriors stealing in from Trans-Jordan.

Jewish reports to Jerusalem were the Jewish militia Haganah routed Arabs in a five-hour battle today and took a police station near Samakah which the Arabs had occupied. Samakah is at the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee.

Down the river valley almost halfway to Beisan, the same reports continued, Haganah also occupied Jisr al Majami police post and Teggart police fortress, evacuated by the British, near Gesher.

The Jewish press charged Arab legionnaires coming from Trans-Jordan joined other armed Arabs in yesterday's attack on the Jewish collective settlement of Gesher, but there was no official confirmation.

Gesher is just south of a Jordan river power station owned and operated by the Jews. One Jew was reported killed and nine wounded in the attack on the settlement.

Lawyer, Editor Buy PM Stock

NEW YORK —(AP)— A west coast attorney and a Manhattan newsman have bought controlling interest in PM, eight-year-old New York City newspaper.

The sale to Bartley C. Crum, 47, San Francisco lawyer, and Joseph Barnes, 40, foreign editor of the New York Herald Tribune, was announced last night by PM Publisher Marshall Field III.

Arrests Made In Pool Hall

Police Find Poker Game

A "back room" poker game last night at the Star Billiards, 170 North Main street, cost five players and five spectators a total of $255 and costs today in municipal court.

Police, who raided the game at 8:56 p. m., said they found $1.75 in an "ante pot" in the center of the table.

Fined by Judge H. H. Schettler in connection with the raid were:

Joe Cantrell, Mansfield, R. D. 5, $50 and costs for permitting gambling in a public place. Cantrell, who pleaded innocent, testified he was a clerk in charge of the store.

Emmanuel "Ed" Yenias, 55 East Fourth street, charged with keeping a place where gambling is permitted, was fined $100 and costs. Yenias, who pleaded guilty, is part owner of the billiard parlor.

FINED $25 EACH

Fined $25 and costs each on charges of gambling were Hubert Orville Haney, 19½ Temple court; Chester Rose, 188 North Main street, and Chester Gillim. Albert Abbjee, Club hotel, a mute, was fined $10 and costs on the same charge.

Haney and Abbjee entered pleas of innocent but were found guilty. It was Haney's fifth conviction for gambling, the second time for Rose and the third time for Gillim, court records showed.

Fined $5 and costs each for loitering were William Lamb, 161 West Fourth street; Homer A. Thomas, 309 Chester avenue, and Walter W. Gray, 74½ North Adams street. L. S. Strausbaugh, 122 West Fourth street, also cited for loitering, forfeited $25 bond.

Officers making the raid were Lt. William J. Taylor and Patrolmen Floyd G. Bowers, Charles J. Letizia and Glenn P. Adams.

Lilienthal OK Urged

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today called for early Senate confirmation of his reappointments of Chairman David E. Lilienthal and other members of the Atomic Energy commission.

Mr. Truman said suggestions to limit their new terms to one or two years "would restore the pall of uncertainty which surrounds the development of this country's atomic energy program."

Lilienthal and his associates were confirmed to the commission last spring.

The President said Lilienthal and his four fellow members were appointed "without any reference to their political affiliations." He added in a formal statement:

"Since we recognize the need for a vigorous non-partisan development of our atomic energy program, I strongly urge that these nominations be considered on the schedule originally set by Congress."

The terms of Lilienthal and other commission members will expire Aug. 1. Lilienthal was nominated for a new five-year term.

Frost Tonight Called Likely

Possibility of light frost was forecast for tonight by the U. S. Weather bureau. The frost will follow a 30-degree drop in temperatures from the unseasonal highs earlier this week.

Frost was seen as most likely in the northwest section of the state due to an influx of cool Canadian air.

Considerable cloudiness and continued cool with scattered light showers is predicted for tonight and Friday.

Yesterday's high was 57 degrees at 4 p. m. Today's low was 39 at 1:30 a. m.

Admits Murder

Night-Flying 'What's-It' Irks Folks

ST. LOUIS, Mo. —(U.P.)— Charles Hertenstein, ace trouble shooter for Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann, planned his strategy today for capturing the night-flying "what's-it" that has terrified residents recently.

Kaufmann assigned Hertenstein the task of catching the giant bird—if it is a bird—yesterday. That was after he received letters from indignant taxpayers, denouncing the city for its lack of action.

The monster has been described by some people as a bird "as big as an airplane." It first appeared near Alton, Ill., about three weeks ago.

U. S. Seeks To Prevent Rail Strike

Unions Meet With Board

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— The government began a "do or die" attempt to head off a nationwide railroad strike today, and President Truman predicted a settlement would be reached before the deadline May 11.

The national mediation board met with union representatives in an attempt to avert a walkout by 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen.

At Washington, Mr. Truman told a news conference he believed the board would succeed. Then, as an afterthought, he said he at least hoped so.

The strike would cut the lifelines of commerce and industry and cripple the nation.

The board, headed by Frank P. Douglass, met with union officials in a conference room adjoining union strike headquarters in a downtown hotel.

"We'll stay here until this thing is settled or until we are convinced it cannot be settled," Douglass said as he walked into the conference room and closed the door behind him.

Two of the unions—the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchman's union or North America—have already ordered their members to stop work on May 11.

The other union, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, had not set an official strike date. But J. P. Shields, assistant Grand Engineer of the union, said the engineers "might set the strike date today or tomorrow."

The three unions represent 150,000 workers, about 80,000 of whom are engineers.

44 Absent Ballots Cast

The number of absentee voter's ballots jumped to 44 today as the deadline for receiving the ballots neared.

Thomas R. Zeigler, clerk of the Richland county board of elections, reported that four more of the ballots were still out.

Deadline for voting by absentee ballot in person is 6:30 p. m. today. Absent voter's ballots sent by mail must reach the office by Friday noon.

Armed service ballots from soldiers and sailors must be received by noon Saturday.

Candidates Making Final Push

Taft Fights to Win Solid Ohio Backing

(By United Press)

Sen. Robert A. Taft today carried his fight for solid backing of the state's 53 GOP national convention delegates into the Toledo area.

The favorite son of the Ohio Republican organization, continuing a grueling pace that began more than a week ago, was scheduled to spend the day in Toledo. He was to climax his day's activity with a radio address at 5 p. m. (EST).

In an address in Canton last night, Taft expressed belief that the United States would never be threatened by a general strike. But if such a threat arises, the senator said, "I think you have to pass a special law to meet the situation."

In the state campaigns, meanwhile, Ray T. Miller, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said he planned to discuss Ohio's "muddled liquor control" setup in a series of talks in Cleveland tonight.

The former Cleveland mayor spoke at noon today in Wooster, moving on from there for an afternoon talk in Ashland. He spoke in Dayton and Springfield last night.

Miller's top opponent for the Democratic nomination—former Governor Frank J. Lausche—called for better roads in a Cincinnati address.

Lausche said that a proposed 1200-mile freeway system would "bring widespread benefits to agriculture and industry."

On the Republican front, William L. White, who is opposing Gov. Thomas J. Herbert for the gubernatorial nomination, announced he was backing Harold E. Stassen's bid for the GOP nomination for President.

Taylor Conducts Ohio Campaign

YOUNGSTOWN —(INS)— Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D-Idaho) speaks at Youngstown today in his campaign for the Henry A. Wallace third party.

Taylor, who is vice presidential candidate on the Wallace party ticket, attended a "peace mobilization" rally last night in Akron where he rapped the draft, universal military training, the steel industries and monopolies.

Wall Street Strike Ends

NEW YORK — (AP) — United Financial Employes (AFL) today voted to return to work at the New York stock exchange and four brokerage houses and end their month-long strike.

The union acted at a special meeting after Mayor William O'Dwyer requested them to resume work at wage increases offered by the exchange pending city investigation of the wage issue.

There was no immediate announcement of when the strikers would return to their jobs.

The strike against the stock exchange and the New York curb exchange started March 29. Later it was extended to four brokerage houses.

The curb exchange dispute was settled about two weeks ago.

Built Estate By Frugality

CLEVELAND —(AP)— When Auverne S. Mann died April 3, doctors blamed malnutrition caused by years of frugal living.

The 73-year-old retired lawyer's will was offered for probate yesterday. It showed he left an estate of $250,000.

Mann willed approximately $200,000 for a community center building in Wayne township, Ashtabula county, where he was born. He left his son, Russell Mann of Perry, O., $5,000 in bonds, and several grandchildren $100 each.

Verdict Due In Slayings

3 Judges Consider Greer Murder Case

Closing arguments in the Clarence Greer murder trial were presented before noon today and the case went to the three judges for their decision. A verdict was expected this afternoon.

Greer, 31, entered a plea of guilty to first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and Ezell Taylor, 35, her brother.

The three common pleas judges who heard the case were G. E. Kalbfleisch, Clarence U. Ahl of Crawford county, and Ralph Sugrue of Seneca county.

Greer took the stand late yesterday, and under question by his attorney Jacob Wagenhals, told the events which led up to the shootings. He told of an argument during a card game just previous to the double slaying.

He also said he had overheard Taylor say to Mrs. Owens: "We'll fix him up and make it look like suicide."

Others called by the defense included Edwin A. Fensch, of the Mansfield schools staff, who said Greer had an intelligent quotient of only 64, and Dr. B. Adam, a psychiatrist.

Dr. Adam said his examination of Greer showed he was retarded mentally, but found no evidence of insanity.

Boy's Luck Changes; He Sees Circus

NEW YORK—(AP)—A newspaper reporter took a little boy to the circus yesterday. It was the least he could do.

Several weeks ago John O'Reilly of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote a story about the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus arriving at Madison Square Garden.

Above his story was a picture of the elephants parading. Inconspicuous in front of the line of elephants was a small boy.

Later this letter came to the newspaper:

"Dear Mr. O'Reilly:

"You took a picture of the elephants marching down the street. I paraded in front of them all the way. For punishment my mommy won't let me go to the circus. I went too far from home. You did not have to put the picture in the paper and get me in trouble.

"Yours truly, Dion Rummage."

O'Reilly called on nine-year-old Dion's parents and persuaded them to alter the punishment.

Circus President John Ringling North personally praised Dion's handling of the elephant parade.

"After you got 'em here," he told the boy, "I counted them and there wasn't one missing."

New Plan Backed By President

Says It's All He Can Get

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman said today that he will accept the proposed compromise on universal military training, but exhibited some reluctance in doing so.

The chief executive told a news conference that the compromise is acceptable to him in view of the fact that it looks like that is all that Congress will give him at this time.

He said that the country vitally needs an adequate defense program, which includes his repeated recommendations for universal military training.

The compromise would combine the draft with UMT, giving youths 18 to 19 and one-half years of age a year's training with the regular armed forces instead of the two years required for selectees.

At the same time, Army Secretary Royall backed Defense Chief Forrestal's "compromise" preparedness budget but told Congress the Army would need an extra two billion dollars to reach a "comparable basis" with the Air Force and Navy.

ANSWERS SENATORS

Royall gave his estimate of the additional requirement in reply to questions before the Senate appropriations committee considering added funds for a 70-group Air Force.

The Army secretary made it clear that he was not requesting the added $2,088,000,000. Royall said:

"It means that we have accepted the budget of the secretary of defense. I accept the decision of Mr. Forrestal and I personally agree with him."

Royall appeared as Chairman Bridges (R-NH) ordered a "speed up" on the House-passed bill providing planes to launch the 70-group program.

Royall told the committee the Army would need 837,000 men "to be in a position to immediately meet the defensive and initial offensive states of war." He said that to do the job right would cost an added $13,500,000,000 but said:

"We know we can't get that."

The $2,088,000,000 would start the job in 1949, he explained, but said that because of the impact of expanded spending upon the domestic economy, the Army wasn't even asking for this.

Dive Halts Plane Fire

CLEVELAND —(AP)— A quick-thinking pilot, flying an American Airlines transport plane carrying 48 passengers, dived his ship 3,000 feet yesterday to blow out an engine fire.

The ship, a DC-6 piloted by Capt. E. S. Swanson, was over Toledo at 21,000 feet altitude at the time. It continued to the airport here on the remaining three engines.

Passengers, watching as flames shot out of the engine and trailed back across the wing, remained in their seats.

All available fire apparatus at the airport followed the plane as it landed and poured 200 pounds of carbon dioxide fire extinguisher on the engine and damaged right wing.

Capt Swanson said a broken propeller blade in the engine's supercharger caused the fire when it blew off its hub and ripped through the housing. This allowed oil to come in contact with the hot exhaust collector ring.

Two smiling stewardesses, Marion V. Negaard and Eileen M. Sexton, and Capt. Swanson and Co-Pilot M. T. Pettigrew, were praised by passengers.

Zoo Loses Its Prolific Mother

CINCINNATI —(INS)— Nine sons and nine daughters were motherless today in Cincinnati after their mother, Maude, and a new baby died in childbirth yesterday.

Maude was a 41-year-old hippopotamus at the zoo and so are all her children.

Fostoria Carpenters Fight Housing Shortage

Slash Own Pay From $2.30 to $1 Hourly

FOSTORIA—(AP)—In an announced effort to ease the housing shortage, AFL carpenters here have cut their hourly rates on new frame houses from $2.30 to $1.

Business Agent E. L. Dixon of the Carpenters union said today "we are trying to give a start to new housing the community needs so much and we hope other trade unions will follow."

The old rates will remain in effect for repair work and labor on brick homes or industrial construction.

"There has been considerable agitation for veterans housing here, but the county commissioners apparently haven't the necessary funds and the metropolitan housing authority has very little," Dixon explained.

"We just talked it over and decided to do what we could to help out," he added.

He estimated the cut rate would save $900 in labor on a five-room house.

Dixon said the Central Trades council would take up the matter at its next meeting to determine if other trade unions would follow the carpenters in reducing rates.

There are 31-members in the Carpenters union. The business agent said the new rate might "work quite a hardship" on them.

Coal Loader Demonstrated

LORAIN—(U.P.)—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad Wednesday brought 500 leaders of business, industry and shipping to this lake port to witness a new loading device that picks up 70 ton coal cars and empties their contents into ships.

Built at a cost of $4,500,000, the electrically operated dock is capable of emptying coal cars at the rate of one-a-minute. Engineers pointed out that it takes only one penny's worth of current to dump five tons of coal because of the delicate balance of the apparatus.

Fritz Bends Ear to Talk On Baseball

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

MARION—The three of us were sitting on a hotel room bed the other night, waiting for Muncie and Marion to open the Ohio-Indiana league season.

The other two were talking. I was listening. I always listen when the other two guys are Tris Speaker, one of the greatest outfielders of all time, and Denton True (Cy) Young, whose pitching record of 511 big league victories has never been approached.

Speaker, the Gray Eagle who led Cleveland to its only pennant and world series title in 1920 when he hit .388 as manager, was talking:

★

"You know, Cy, it doesn't seem like it was 41 years ago that I came up to Boston from Little Rock. The books say I was a pretty good outfielder for a lot of years after that—but I want to tell you that if it hadn't been for you, I'd have been just another fly-chaser."

We stuck in our two cents' worth with: "How did Cy help you, Tris?"

"Well, I was a pretty raw rookie when I came up to the Red Sox," Tris answered. "I wasn't a bad hitter, I had a good arm, and I could run fast. But those fly balls bothered me a little.

"So Cy and Lou Criger, a catcher, took turns hitting flies to me in practice. Cy probably was the greatest fungo hitter of our time, and he could put that fly ball just a full step away from where you could reach it.

"He almost ran my legs off, day after day and week after week.

"Finally, in self defense, I started watching his stance and his swing. I got it figured out that when his feet were set a certain way, the ball had to go a certain way.

"So I began getting a couple of steps before he hit the ball, and I was catching 'em. Then I decided that if I could figure where a fungo hitter was going to smack the ball, I could do the same with a hitter, especially if we had a pitcher with good control.

"You've heard people say that good outfielders are off at the crack of the bat, but a great outfielder has already taken a couple of steps, and in the right direction, before the ball is ever hit. Cy taught me how to do that, and it was that one thing which carried me to the top."

★

Old Cy, now 81, chimed in with:

"You were always a great one, Tris, and all Lou and I did was develop you a. little. I liked to have you in that outfield because that arm of yours could always keep a runner from taking that extra base. And that bat of yours didn't hurt us any, either."

And Tris answered:

"Well, Cy, when you were pitching we didn't have to worry about too many base runners. And we didn't have to get many hits, either, because you were always pretty stingy with those runs you allowed."

We never saw either of the two veterans play, but if they performed on the field as well as they "talk" baseball, it's no wonder they are in the Hall of Fame.

Susie Q. Smith . . . .

"One way you can cut down the electricity bill is to let me go out nights during the week!"

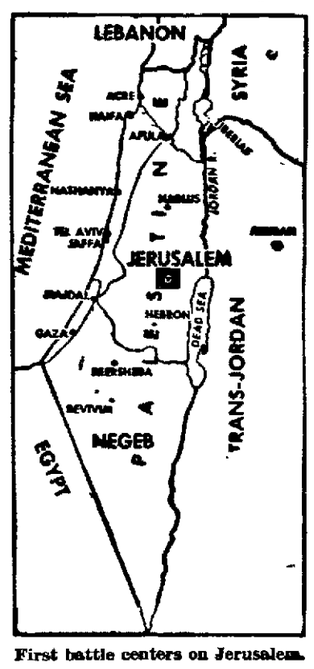
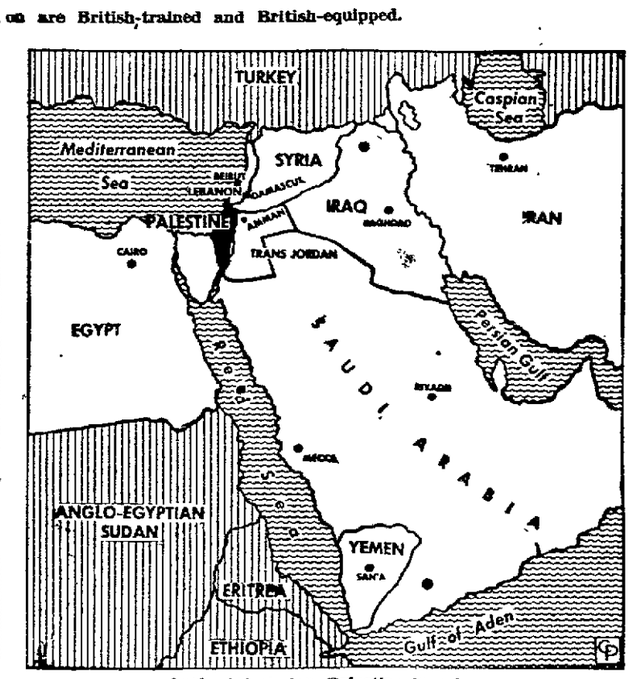
Troops of Trans-Jordan's powerful Arab legion are British-trained and British-equipped.



First battle centers on Jerusalem.

King Abdullah leads invasion.



Arab states' plan Palestine invasion

FIGHTING BEGINS—Major Arab-Jewish battle for Palestine is under way in the Holy Land with armies from six Arab nations ready to invade Palestine. King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan is in personal command of his crack, British-trained 15,000-man Arab legion, and regular armies of Syria, Lebanon and Egypt are reported joining with the legion in an attempt to conquer the Jews before they can establish their own state in the Holy Land. Iraq and Saudi Arabia also reportedly have concurred.—(International)

Press Association Prepares To Cover Palestine Events

Events are moving rapidly toward a climax in Palestine. It has been clear for months that the Holy Land would produce some of the biggest news of the times and the Associated Press has assembled in that region some of its ablest and most experienced correspondents to report events for the News-Journal and other AP newspapers.

Six of these are Americans, American-trained. They are aided by many capable local correspondents, both Jewish and Arab.

Carter L. Davidson, AP correspondent in Palestine for more than two years, heads the staff within the Holy Land. Overall direction of Middle East coverage is in the hands of Max Boyd, veteran Washington and foreign correspondent who arrived in Jerusalem from Cairo today to confer with Davidson and his staff.

Enroute to Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah and apparently military headquarters for the Arab world, is Daniel de Luce, who covered World War Two from start to finish and recently made a tour of the Arab capitals.

Edward Curtis, James M. Long and Joseph C. Goodwin, all long experienced in problems of the Middle East, are operating from Haifa, Tel-Aviv and Damascus, respectively.

Two experienced AP news photographers, Tom Fitzsimmons and James Pringle, are working inside Palestine.

The rapid disintegration of transport, communications and other public services in Palestine, due to the beginning of British withdrawal and the heavy fighting, has multiplied the difficulties of covering the Palestine war, as well as subjecting correspondents to personal danger.

However, the AP staff is confident that by careful disposition of its forces and use of all possible means of communication, it will be able to cope with emergencies and provide a complete and unbiased report of the fight for the Holy Land.

The company reported its price reductions in the past four months totaled nearly $14,500,000.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

TERRY & PIRATES

YOUR STORY'S STRAIGHT ENOUGH, VAN GORLIN. A JAP PATROL DID COME HERE DURING THE WAR. ITS LEADER SUSPECTED THERE'D BE SOMETHING OF VALUE ABOUT THE PLACE AND GOT BLASTED UGLY ABOUT IT...
SO I HAD A SERVANT BRING ME A CRUDE MODERN FIGURE OF INFERIOR JADE FROM THE VILLAGE. I RECARVED IT, ADDED SOME GOLD WORK, MADE FROM NATIVE JEWELRY AND HID IT QUITE CAREFULLY — THEN I ALLOWED THE JAP TO FRIGHTEN ME INTO LEADING HIM TO IT.
HOWEVER, SINCE THE THING IS VALUELESS, WHY DO YOU SAY IT'S UNLUCKY FOR ME THAT THE JAP SOLD IT TO YOU?
YOUR AIR OF INNOCENCE IS NEARLY CONVINCING, MR. BRONZ — HOWEVER, I DID RECOGNIZE THE PIECE YOU MUST HAVE USED AS A MODEL FOR IT!

GASOLINE ALLEY

I UNDERSTAND THAT WALLET & BOBBLE IS A WIDE-AWAKE, GOING CONCERN.
THAT IT IS! THEY ARE A PAIR OF G.I.'S THAT STARTED FROM SCRATCH.

THEN THEY AREN'T JUST LOCALLY KNOWN?
HECK, NO! G.I.'S ARE COMING THROUGH HERE ALL THE TIME GETTING DOPE ON HOW TO START A BUSINESS.
THANKS. I THINK YOU HAVE HANDED ME AN IDEA!

RIP KIRBY

BONJOUR, LUPO! HAVING NO REPORT FROM MY CHIEF OF SCOUTS, I THOUGHT...

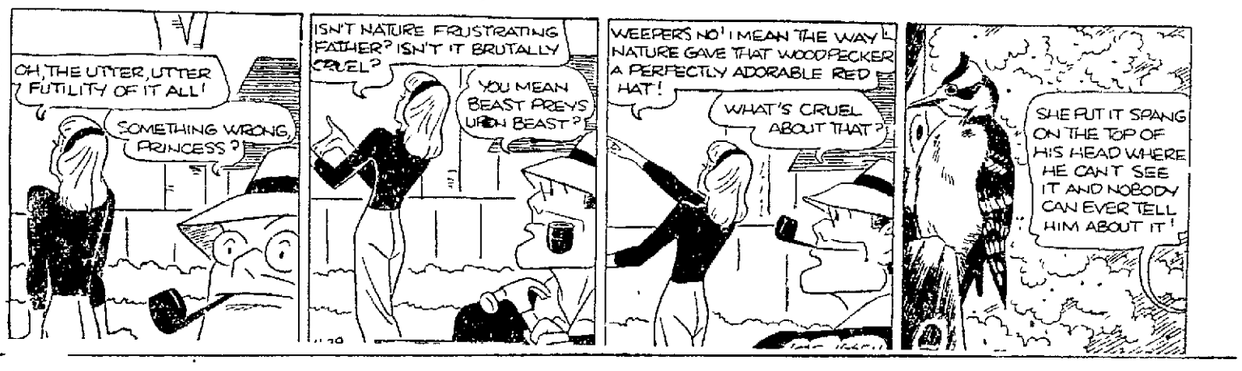
MY WORD, SIR! THIS IS DREADFUL! THEY LIVE LIKE ANIMALS!
THEY'RE LOVELY CHILDREN! HELLO, YVONNE.. HELLO, YVETTE...
YOU SEE, M'SIEU', I COULD NOT REPORT THEM TO THE AUTHORITIES — THEY WOULD HAVE TAKEN YVONNE AND YVETTE AWAY FROM ME.. AND I PROMISED MY PARENTS, BEFORE THEY WERE KILLED BY THE BOMBS,
...A CAB! WE'RE ALL GOING SHOPPING!

PENNY



OH, THE UTTER, UTTER FUTILITY OF IT ALL!
SOMETHING WRONG, PRINCESS?
ISN'T NATURE FRUSTRATING FATHER? ISN'T IT BRUTALLY CRUEL?
YOU MEAN BEAST PREYS UPON BEAST?
WEEPERS NO! I MEAN THE WAY NATURE GAVE THAT WOODPECKER A PERFECTLY ADORABLE RED HAT!
WHAT'S CRUEL ABOUT THAT?
SHE PUT IT SPANG ON THE TOP OF HIS HEAD WHERE HE CAN'T SEE IT AND NOBODY CAN EVER TELL HIM ABOUT IT!

As Railway Workers Threaten Strike

SUPPOSE all railroads DO stop operating May 11, because of a strike by unionized employes—as is now threatened—then what? Why then there would be further negotiations between union leaders and company representatives, with government arbitrators seeking to iron out differences—and finally a compromise agreement would be reached under which railway traffic would be resumed. No railway worker would vote for permanent abandonment of railroads!

But in the meantime millions of people would be made to suffer as a result of temporary suspension of services of an essential part of the nation's transportation system; industries and businesses would be stymied; hundreds of thousands of other workers would be deprived of employment, and the entire national economy would be thrown out of kilter.

And, in the event of a long strike by railway workers, food supplies in many centers of population would be exhausted and there would be hunger—possibly starvation—among large segments of distressed people.

In a country such as this, interests are so interlocked that, by resort to the strike weapon, a relatively small minority engaged in essential industry, or in the field of transportation, can wreak havoc on a nationwide scale—for the furtherance of a purely selfish purpose.

Laws designed to provide substitutes for strikes in settling labor disputes are intended to protect the nation as a whole against practices of organized groups which place minority consideration above the general welfare.

Measures which would later lead to the ending of a strike by railway workers should now suffice to prevent such a calamity—if both sides to the controversy recognize the mutuality of interest that marks their relationship.

Social Charter For the Americas

THE CHARTER of social guarantees for the Western Hemisphere, drafted at the Bogota conference, is an attempt to set up international standards for working conditions and pay. It seems to have the broad human objective of improvement in the lot of man throughout the hemisphere.

Probably reforms in working conditions are not needed in the Western Hemisphere any more sorely than in the other half of the world, but probably neither are they less needed.

The dissent of the United States in the formation of this charter might easily be misunderstood and misrepresented. The people of this country are very much in sympathy with the aims of the charter, but the goals and standards it sets forth are in general lower than those already achieved in this country.

We wish for our neighbors the nearest possible approach to our own standards, but the nation has declined to place itself on record as accepting goals lower than our own. Some of the proposals in the charter, the official delegates said, would violate the United States Constitution.

In these respects we have failed to assent not because we disapprove the basic theory, but because we are so far ahead in actual practice.

The charter, however, represents gains on the previous practice of the nations signing it, and if it should prove to be an effective instrument it would mean a great stride forward in building up the Americas.

Socialized Medicine Isn't the Answer

VARIOUS efforts to introduce socialized medicine into the United States appear to disregard the fact that medical progress has been almost entirely dependent on individual ambition, ability and incentive, and that these qualities would be discouraged by the leveling process of government operation and political patronage.

It has always been recognized that there is close relationship between "the family doctor" and those he serves, and the idea of having a doctor assigned rather than chosen is repellent to anyone who gives thought to this subject.

Consideration of high costs of extended hospitalization, plus medical and surgical attention, creates a fear in the minds of many persons with moderate income and small savings that they will sometime be deprived of needed care, but hospital insurance plans have already been developed to the point of relieving much of this worry.

Extent of public obligation, either federal, state or local, would seem to be the acceptance of responsibility for assuring competent medical and surgical care—with hospitalization when necessary—for all persons who are unable to pay for these services, or who are able to pay only a part of the total cost.

Another element that has tended to provide an argument for the proponents of socialized medicine has been a noticeable recent upward trend of medical and surgical fees and hospital charges, and as these are subjects of community-wide discussion, there is appearance of inclination to postpone or avoid consulting a doctor at a time when more serious developments might be avoided. This, it would seem, results from what medical authorities themselves recognize as "over-specialization," with resultant shortage of what are known as "general practitioners"—a situation which efforts are now being made to correct.

Now a veterinarian contends that dogs become mentally ill from associating with people—so you'll have to be careful how you behave while in the presence of your dog.

For any others who may be similarly interested a medical authority assures a questioner that pearl buttons dissolved in lemon juice will not cure rheumatism.

According to Pathfinder magazine: "Anyone can see that the United Nations is a peaceful, warlike, beneficent, dangerous, practical and visionary affair."

Claude Callan has a consoling thought: "Heaven knows we are poor enough, but we are 250 billion dollars better off than our government."

You'll surely find it in a Mansfield store.

What Some Other People Are Saying

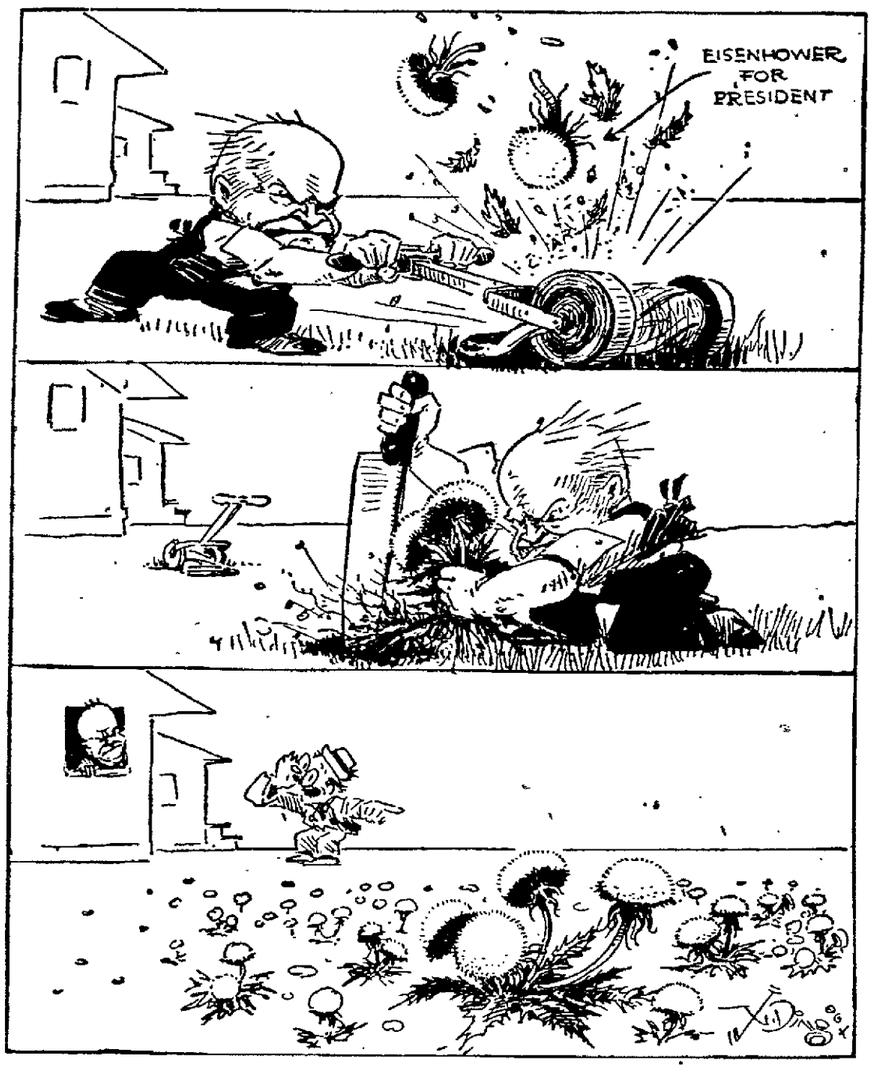
GEN. OMAR BRADLEY, Army chief of staff: "The challenge to America has become an appeal from all mankind to save itself from destruction."

* * *

REP. ANDREWS (R-NY), chairman of the House armed service committee: "I think any attempt to implement both selective service and UMT simultaneously is ridiculous. The Army is not in position to handle the systems and defense as well."

* * *

REP. MERROW (R-NH): "The self interest of the U. S. and the peace of the world requires the establishment of a line beyond which an aggressor may not move without encountering the full force and power of the United States."



The Dandelions On Eisenhower's Lawn.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

GOP Candidates Agree on Major Issues

ALTHOUGH the campaign for the Republican nomination is getting very warm, the articulate candidates—Taft, Dewey and Stassen—reveal only small differences of opinion on the issues. The real choice is among personalities. And each candidate, whatever he may be saying, is trying to get over to those he meets or addresses his personal qualifications for the job.

Perhaps this is for the best, and it may be hoped that the personal appeal will not become too personal; in short, that the rivals will not get to the point of personal attacks on each other.

So far, it has been a gentlemanly affair, with none of the name-calling which characterized the T. R.-William H. Taft primary fights in 1912.

The general agreement on principle among the Republican aspirants once more reveals how greatly the public really makes issues. Stassen, Dewey and Taft are trying to sell themselves to a vastly conglomerate public.

One day Stassen may be addressing a group of extremely conservative businessmen. The next day, he may be speaking to a group of farmers who once belonged to the Non-Partisan league. In all cases he is concerned with the general impression he leaves.

It is much the same with Taft and, to a lesser degree, with Dewey. Candidates for a nomination do not ordinarily raise broad issues of policy. They hesitate to divide their party.

Jockeying For Peace.

IN THE present state of the campaign, the real business is being done behind the scenes. Unless the Stassen momentum becomes sufficient to start a pre-convention stampede, the three candidates will, on the first ballot, have in all less than 700 votes, and no one will be within 150 or more of a majority. Second choices are being eagerly, even desperately sought.

Managers of all candidates are hunting out delegates and state leaders and working on them with all the persuasiveness of lightning-rod salesmen. A good many king-makers not officially attached to any camp are abroad in the land, working for various candidates, including some not-so-dark, or perhaps we should say gray horses, like Martin and Vandenberg.

Among the publishers and editors assembled in New York last week there was unlimited talk of the Republican candidates. One would be foolish to generalize too much about such a vast assortment of opinions.

But it is clear that when the clans gather in Philadelphia there will be several favorite sons who will passionately believe they have a chance. It is also clear that both Martin and Vandenberg are really bitten with the presidential bug.

It is becoming more and more clear that the convention may see protracted trial runs. In other words, after the leaders seem to be at a halt, there will be trials for Vandenberg and possibly Martin.

If the leaders hold firm, these trials, it is said, will fail. Then will come a series of trial runs for favorite sons—perhaps for Green of Illinois, Baldwin of Connecticut, Warren of California and others, and even for some governors who are not now favorite sons. If that skirmishing fails to produce a candidate, the swing may go back to the leaders.

Hence, the leaders—Stassen, Taft and Dewey—are taking no chances now on alienating any powerful interest. And hence the tendency now on the part of all articulate candidates to raise no real differences of opinion.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Sunday, April 29, 1928.

Fire Chief William Remy "pointed with pride" to the improved appearance of Mansfield because of co-operation of residents in "cleanup week."

Class of thirty was confirmed at Grace Episcopal church by Bishop John Gates, Park avenue west, was injured by fall from motor-cycle on Newville road. Rogers.

Braddock Sturges was granted leave from Kenyon college to study in France to meet requirements for master of arts degree.

Clara Bow in "Red Hair" was screen attraction at the Ohio.

Members of First Methodist brotherhood, under leadership of Sidney Palmer, conducted evening service at Grace church.

It was announced that first aid classes would be continued in Mansfield under sponsorship of the Red Cross.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On April 29, 1886, Jefferson Davis laid the cornerstone of the Confederate monument at Montgomery, Alabama. Davis had been President of the Confederate States of America.

Dave Boone Says:

WINSTON CHURCHILL makes no bones about condemning both England and France as heavily responsible for the last World war, charging that France ran out on a solemn covenent to Czechoslovakia and that Britain played ball with her in that action, which gave Hitler the green light.

* * *

"Great Britain, after all, had no treaty obligation, but France had definitely bound herself to make war on Germany if she attacked Czechoslovakia," Churchill says. "If ever there was a case of solemn obligation it was here and now. It must be recorded with regret that the British government not only acquiesced but encouraged the French government in the repudiation, from which flowed terrible consequences."

An aspirin tablet may have caused the World war in a way. Winnie says that at a time when Eden was trying to get Chamberlain to check Hitler before it was too late he got the reply, "go home and take an aspirin." There's a case where aspirin, instead of curing, brought on the headache of all time.

As Cerf Tells It

Mrs. Wharton descended upon her grocer with mayhem in her eyes. "Something must be wrong with your scale," she declared. "I sent Junior for three pounds of roasted chestnuts and you gave him only a pound and a half."

"There's nothing wrong with my scale, Mrs. Wharton," maintained the grocer. "How about weighing Junior?"

Editor News-Journal:

Regarding editorial about speeding on Marion avenue. Why Marion avenue? Why not speeding (period)?

This is entirely a matter of law enforcement. The traffic situation in Mansfield and vicinity could be straightened out by the present officers available. If people were made to realize that a penalty would immediately follow a violation there would be a sudden drop in violations.

The traffic problem is enforced about like the gambling problem. I suppose that the speeder is excused because he has no time to go slow. The small news (?) stands would be forced out of business if they were not permitted all their little gambling devices. Would that be bad? My business is slow now. Is it all right if I start a gambling joint in a large basement that I have available? Is it all right to make my men drive their trucks faster to save a few minutes?

It is my opinion that the present officers on the police force could and would stop these gambling and traffic violations if they were ordered to do so. But where do they get their orders?

The present disrespect shown by almost everyone toward the laws is caused by the feeling that, "I can get away with it" and he probably can.

One officer on Marion avenue making about fifty arrests in any single day, backed by the proper authority, so the offender would know he had been arrested, followed by wide publicity, would, I assure you, have the effect of making offenders or potential offenders suddenly watch their speed and make them realize that they really are not in quite the hurry they supposed.

Fate Deals Blow To Real Estate Lobby

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if fate was finally catching up with the real-estate lobby. One of its most active spokesmen has been Congressman Charles Fletcher, San Diego Republican, who, though a freshman, was strategically placed on the House banking and currency committee by the lobby's master wire-puller, Morton Bodfish.

Bodfish has now been indicted by the justice department, and Fletcher is now under investigation by the Home Loan Bank board for some interesting operations in San Diego.

The board has sent its ace investigator, A. C. Newell, to California to probe the shaky finances of the Federal Savings and Loan Association which Fletcher heads. Thanks to the congressman and his father, the association has got in up to its neck in a real-estate deal which may lose a lot of other people's money.

Fletcher founded the Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Diego and is still its president. Furthermore he draws a salary of $10,000, even while he is supposed to be devoting his full time to Congress.

Of course, as a congressman, Fletcher introduced the bill to abolish rent control, has voted consistently against housing reforms and is a member of the joint committee on housing where he has done his best to sabotage the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. So, all in all, he hasn't done so badly by the housing lobby.

* * *

"Fletcher Park."

BUT in San Diego, Fletcher hasn't done so well by the people who invested in his Federal Savings and Loan Association. First, Fletcher's father sold a tract of land to a San Diego real-estate operator named Larry H. Imig, for around $30,000. Then young Fletcher turned round and loaned Imig the money which he, Imig, paid Fletcher's father for the land.

Following this, Imig erected a housing development which he named "Fletcher Park" in honor of the two gentlemen who sold him the land and loaned him other people's money to pay for it. Then Imig built another development which he named for himself "Imig Park," plus a swank hotel with swimming pool and night club which he named "Imig Park Manor."

Meanwhile, Imig kept borrowing money from Fletcher's Federal Savings and Loan Association, until his debt now runs to around $1,250,000—or about one-half the total assets of the association.

If this were Fletcher's money, it would be one thing. But what worries the Home Loan Bank board in Washington is that the U. S. government has insured the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association and Uncle Sam may have to bail Fletcher out. That's why investigator Newell was sent to California.

Congressman Fletcher started in the savings and loan business back in 1934 on only $9,500. He hit it just at the right time, shortly before the war boom.

By the peak of the boom, his association's total capital was swollen to nearly $3,000,000—of which about half is tied up with one real-estate speculator.

Meanwhile, Congressman Fletcher blithely continues to vote against public housing. Obviously, if he can lend money to private speculators with a government guarantee to bail him out, he isn't terribly interested in the low-cost public housing provided for in the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill.

Backstage In Italy.

NOW that the Italian elections are over, some of the backstage developments can be told.

One factor which influenced Italian votes was the state department's offer to return Trieste to Italy—an offer which the Russians eventually turned down.

What wasn't known was that Tito had been planning to make exactly the same offer himself—on behalf of Russia.

But the U. S. intelligence services picked up this fact, and we beat Tito to it. This was some of the fastest footwork the state department has put across in some time.

Another factor was Ambassador Dunn's insistence that the American fleet get out of Italian waters. Some of the military men around the White House didn't like this advice, thought the fleet should remain. But Dunn argued that its presence gave political ammunition to the communists. He was right. The fleet was withdrawn, and the commies had to pipe down.

One thing which nearly upset the applecart was the amendment by Congressman O'Konski of Wisconsin making Marshall Plan money available to Spain. Until this was reversed in the Senate, it had a backfire in Italy.

Note 1—When this writer was in Italy last winter, he traveled with Ambassador Dunn and Vice Premier Pacciardi to Naples to welcome the Friend Ship. Perhaps these were the two most incongruous people in Italy to be thrown together; for, during the Spanish civil war, Dunn was lined up on the side of Franco, while Col. Pacciardi commanded the Italian anti-Fascist troops in Spain fighting against Franco. Both, however, have now been working together in the belief that extremists of either the right or left are enemies of Italian democracy.

Note 2—President Truman has in mind a promotion for Ambassador Dunn. While he deserves one, his services are too important in Italy.

SOME fast footwork is going on inside the state department regarding the Marshall Plan. The plan has quietly eliminated $600,000,000 worth of machinery to Europe. Instead, $600,000,000 of food and grains have been added. What Europe needs most is machinery to build up its own industry . . . Assignment: America

Is Book Fiction or Fact?

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — The phone rang one afternoon not long ago. It was a guy I first met some years ago in what we then referred to in cablese as the "Emm Tee Ohh," meaning M.T.O. or Mediterranean Theater of Operations. At the time, it had seemed quite an important area of the world, at least to us.

"Do you remember a character named Elliott Arnold who was kicking around with the 12th and 15th Air Forces in North Africa and Italy?" the guy asked. Vaguely I recalled the name.

"Well, he's written himself a book, and it's just coming out now, and he's in town now and having some people up to the hotel here to answer questions and stuff like that, and why don't you come on up?" this guy said.

Quickly I alibied my way out. Meeting young authors who have written books about the war upsets my equilibrium. Either they're smart aleck phonies, like certain ones I could mention, and their largesse stick in my throat, or else they're good and I lie awake nights berating myself for not having also written a book.

Neither is particularly a pleasant perience, so I avoid it.

However, as always, eventually guilt reared up and wiggled its ugly little ears inside my soul, so I dropped by a bookstore and bought a copy of Arnold's "Everybody Slept Here" which currently is causing consternation in the Capitol and ulcers in the Pentagon building.

Already, I am lying awake nights wondering why I didn't write the blasted thing.

It is not, you understand, that brother Arnold's cynical prose is of a substance which will set new literary precedents. Nor is it a volume which you normally would buy your teen-age child as a birthday present.

But, having made those two concessions, the fact remains that this lad who looked at the war both from Washington and from the receiving end of wehrmacht flak guns has lopped himself off some sizeable sections of bitter truths and bound them between the covers of a novel.

* * *

When Truth Hurts.

PERHAPS ley would be things best forgotten — were it not for current happenings around town, and around the world, which display a marked tendency towards repetition. It is that which makes what Elliott Arnold has to say worth listening to.

It is a book based largely on wartime Washington, but with fiery flashbacks to various combat zones—and some of the conduct there fares no better than the capital city at the hands of the angry Mr. Arnold.

"Everybody Slept Here" can be translated both literally and allegorically. Unquestionably it will be drooled over by many of those characters who seek only a vicarious peep-show thrill from their books. But honest authorship always attracts a certain percentage of this lip-locking crowd, and certainly the perfidies of wartime Washington could hardly have been convincingly presented without a few pertinent examples.

But the allegorical accusations are the ones which arouse the wrath of the upper bracket boys—both civilian and military—and they are the ones worth noting in view of today's developments.

In short, author Arnold's fictional indictment charges many an Army and Navy man with being more concerned with keeping the status quo and his sex life than with winning the war. And the calculated sophistry of capital conversation made a fine smoke screen to cover such shenanigans.

The smothering of critical reports on murderously inferior airplane engines . . . the railroading overseas of conscientious officers who refused to bow to "regular" policy—and subsequent railroading home of stubborn ones who still weren't converted . . . The swapping of safe, stateside posts to congressmen's kin and constituents in return for increased appropriations . . . The financial rewards, reaped in the bloody name of Mars, by men both in and out of uniform.

Those are the book's charges which have men in high place from Capitol Hill to the Pentagon quivering with rage. Unfortunately, anyone who saw the war from Washington and from overseas is forced to concede that most of the charges are well-founded.

Lest there be those who think those things are best forgotten, let us look at the deadly developments of today, and the signs of an impending repeat performance.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Hirohito Still Revered

ONE of the intriguing personalities of this new era of ours is Japan's Emperor Hirohito—a once mystic figure who was blasted out of his Olympian seclusion by the first atomic bombs to be used in war.

The little mikado, having divested himself of his supposed divinity (on advice of the U. S. military command) descended to earth where he assumed a figure of clay—and a badly molded one at that. Still, the transformation has seemed to make little or no difference in his godlike status with his worshipful people.

Now that's an astonishing circumstance, and so when Russell Brines, AP chief of bureau in Tokyo, dropped in on us in New York for a brief visit, I seized the opportunity to quiz him about Hirohito.

Brines knows his Japan—as would be expected of one who has lived long in the Orient and even was held as a prisoner by the Japs for nearly two years during the war.

The 47-year-old mikado is supposed by his people to be a direct descendant of the sun goddess. He is the 124th in a line of rulers who have held the throne for 2,600 years. No wonder his humble subjects formerly regarded such a background with an awe that precluded their venturing to look directly on his countenance.

When he came down to earth and started circulating, however, the illusion of greatness was dispelled, so far as concerned crude westerners. One would have expected a similar effect among the Japanese themselves, for the mikado is far from inspiring.

* * *

Not Impressive Figure.

HIROHITO is short, stooped and pudgy. He is near-sighted and thrusts his head forward like a turtle. He walks with a jerk. In short, he is about as unprepossessing an individual as one could imagine. You'd think that he would lose prestige with his people, as he circulates among them for the first time and they get a chance to see what he really looks like.

But not so. The emperor still is very powerful. His subjects continue to regard him with reverence and even with affection. Indeed, his hold on the people remains so strong that when the Communist party organized a propaganda attack on him, the plan had to be abandoned because of public resentment.

And what's the answer to all this? Well, the emperor is a spiritual symbol of the state. Moreover, he is the head of Shintoism—a religion which partakes of ancestor worship, and may be described as a code of living.

When he renounced his "divinity," it had no marked effect on the people. They accepted without question what he said, but he still remained a symbol for their reverance.

It is because of this public attitude that the American command has kept the emperor on the throne as a steadying influence and a bulwark against communism. He is the symbol binding the people together.

The allied prosecution in the war crimes trials has stated that the emperor isn't on trial. All the testimony by Japanese witnesses has absolved the little man. He has been pictured as a figure-head who spoke only when words were put into his mouth. His "opinion" was not sought regarding the making of war against the allies, according to Japanese testimony, and so he ventured no comment.

Thus the little man, despite his shortcomings, remains a powerful and beloved figure. And that's a mighty important fact to keep in mind as the allies try to guide Japan onto the long, long road which in the distant future may lead them to democracy.

Methodists Begin General Conference

BOSTON — (U.P.) — Sixty-three bishops and delegates representing the world's 20,000,000 Methodists met for communion services in Trinity church Wednesday to open the 1948 Methodist Quadrennial General conference.

After the ceremony, 758 delegates from throughout the world followed a procession of black robed bishops to nearby Mechanics hall for the first meeting of the 12-day conference.

Bishop Paul B. Kern of Nashville, Tenn., president of the council of bishops, welcomed the delegates and organized conference procedure before more than 1,500 visitors and guests.

The delegates were gathered here for the first time in 96 years to establish the church's policy for the next four years. The last conference was held at Kansas City, Mo., in 1944.

During the sessions which end May 9, the bishops will present the Methodist stand on church, national and world issues.

The delegates, composed equally of clergy and lay representatives, will vote on the bishops' pronouncements.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles — which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues ... whether a man should drink beer or cider ... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts ... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

DR. ALAN B. ADAM SPEAKS TO BETA CHAPTER, SOROSIS

Mrs. Harold Mansfield Entertains Study Group, Assisted By Mrs. H. Jack Shafer.

DR. ALAN B. ADAM, Mansfield psychiatrist, was the guest speaker for members of Beta chapter, Sorosis, when they met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Harold Mansfield at her home on Sturges avenue. Mrs. H. Jack Shafer served as associate hostess. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. B. F. Parr, program chairman.

Dr. Adam spoke on "Psychiatry in Action." He prefaced his talk by stating that many people have a pre-conceived and erroneous idea of a psychiatrist. "Psychiatry," stated Dr. Adam, "is as old as antiquity." He went into the different phases of the treatment of the mentally ill during the progression of the centuries; Dr Benjamin Rush, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, being the founder of psychiatry in America He stated that psychiatry had its beginning first in insane asylums and then gradually reached out to all people who had emotional problems.

"An interview with a psychiatrist," stated Dr. Adam, "is an emotional release from telling one's troubles, as a psychiatrist is an impartial listener or a sounding board, whether you are dealing with an abnormal person who is trying to adjust himself to a normal person or a normal person trying to adjust to abnormal conditions." Dr. Adam believes that civilization is causing a lot of neurotics and neurotics repeat behaviour problems again and again from childhood. Dr. Adam stated that most of us have a feeling within ourselves whether we feel secure and have peace of mind.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ralph McGraw, who welcomed the twenty members and the following guests: Mrs. Russell Myers, Mrs. Ivan Bauer, Mrs. E. Jackson Osborne, Mrs. Robert F. Lynch, Mrs. Richard Acomb, Mrs. Earl Lowry, Mrs. Burdell Blaney, Mrs. Harvey Horn, Mrs. Robert Donnan, Mrs. Vere Smith, Mrs. William Marshall and Mrs. Ralph Lowry.

GIGGLES AT THE GREAT

Long before "Of Thee I Sing," most citizens of this fair nation realized that in the political scene lay a gold mine of rich, uproarious humor. American politicians have helped build a great nation, but, let's face it, through the years of American politics, our law-makers have jousted with each other at election times. And out of the tumult and shouting have come unforgettable contributions to our national humor.

Now we approach another presidential campaign. It may be MacArthur. It may be Truman. It may be Eisenhower. But one thing we're sure of: There will be gags and political punchlines that will go into the files side by side with political humor which has come down from Lincoln's day—even from Jefferson's.

Let's examine some of the political punchlines of the past.

The scholarly Woodrow Wilson was a target for the quipmakers. Your dad and mine remember that Wilson was a man fond of being on the move; they recall his many trips to and from Paris after World War I. Somebody finally said of him: "Presidents may come and presidents may go—but Woodrow Wilson does both!".

In Teddy Roosevelt's day, his vice president was Charles W. Fairbanks, a victim of the traditional vice president gags. One time Teddy went out on Long Island Sound with a submarine and ordered its submersion as a test. People everywhere protested his recklessness. One editorial writer summed up: "Yes, it certainly was stupidly reckless of Mr. Roosevelt to do this—and not take Mr. Fairbanks along with him!"

All of us, of course, remember what political capital was made of Will Rogers' famous line when he was introduced to Calvin Coolidge: "I beg your pardon," said Will, as he leaned forward, "I didn't catch the name!"

In 1936 Franklin D. Roosevelt was riding high. The Republicans had captured only Maine and Vermont in a disastrous campaign. Clarence Buddington Kelland arose at a GOP dinner and said in introducing a speaker: "This is Mr. Henry P. Fletcher, just made chairman of the Republican National convention. That somehow seems to me like taking on the job of janitor in a haunted house!"

Again, in 1937 a political joke making the national rounds was one minted by Mrs. Teddy Roosevelt. That was at the height of FDR's power and the Republican Mrs. Roosevelt, getting to her feet at a dinner, remarked wanly: "I feel it only fair to tell you I belong to the Oyster Bay, or out-of-season, Roosevelts!"

Grover Cleveland was president during a bitter depression. But Americans are game people and it failed to dampen spirits in many quarters. A sample was a popular vaudeville gag of the era: "Cleveland is a great man and he has freed many Americans of their chains. Take me, for example, my watch chain and my wife's gold chain."

And another memorable political punchline of the past was born in the days when William Howard Taft sat in the White House. Taft, as everybody knows, was a man of considerable girth who looked a calorie in the eye without shame. William Jennings Bryan was nursing presidential ambitions and somebody said: "Mr. Bryan has his eye on the White House chair!

'Yes," was the devastating answer, "but look what Taft's got on it!"

Another time, during the days when Coolidge was president, Joe Frisco turned down an offer of $1,500 for a vaudeville date.

"But, Joe," protested his agent, "President Coolidge doesn't get that much."

"So what," stuttered Frisco, "c-c-c-can he Charleston?"

History books don't, but should, record the time Stephen Douglas met Abe Lincoln at a Washington social function and sneered:

"Mr. President, I hear you shine your own shoes. Is that true?"

"Very true," said Lincoln, "but tell me, Mr. Douglas, whose shoes do you shine?"

The silence of Cal Coolidge was material for many a political gag. One time a Washington matron rushed up to Coolidge and said: "Mr. President, I bet a friend I'd talk to you and you'd say at least three words to me."

The Coolidge answer: "You lose!"

Andrew Johnson was a tailor who later became head man in the White House. Impish political opponents used to tell of the time a member of Congress forgot his overcoat after a White House conference and when he called for it the next morning four buttons had been sewn on and the lining altered!

Whenever Harry Truman hears that he really had the White House porch built because he couldn't stand Margaret's singing, he needn't wince. That, apparently, is one of the hazards of presidential office—braving the barbs hurled at the big house at the end of Pennsylvania avenue.

Is your face round? Is it square? Is it heart shaped? It's important to know, because it's an important clue to how you should wear your hair. So take your lipstick and stand in a good light before your mirror. Then close one eye and carefully outline the shape of your face in the glass. Next, take the lipstick impression off the mirror by pressing it off onto a piece of paper. You'll then have a perfect picture of the true shape of your face, and a guide to the right home created hair-do for you! Watch for future appearances of Hair Beauty Secrets and learn just how you should wear your hair.

Horoscope

For Friday, April 30

It is probable that intimate or strangely private matters may dictate, incite, or determine the general state of affairs and their manipulation and ultimate solution. In this, the mental aspects of underlying difficulties may not be depended upon, since confusion and complication abound, and as well the emotions may be wayward, erratic and liable to heighten complexity until the vision be clearer and the impulses less demanding, as entrangement and sudden crashes are "in the air."

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves submerged in a sea of doubt, confusion and complication of all sorts, since all ties, contacts and attachments seem to be "under a cloud."

This situation is largely incited by suspicion, riotous imaginaton, erratic and unrestrained feelings and emotions. There is faint hope of a solution by any logical or studied rationalizing. Impulse and emotions being dominant, wild moves, intemperate and reckless behavior are forecast, with further prospect of strife, scandal, separations and estrangements. During such harrowing situation there might be found escape and solace in solitude and "lofty contemplation."

A child born on this day may require early discipline and training in restrained feelings and impulses, with all emotional demands or erratic urges submitted to the court of reason.

Unionization Poses Atomic Labor Problem

Government Ponders Security Dangers

(Last of a Series)

By MAX HALL
(AP) Labor Reporter.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Is it safe to have labor unions in atomic plants?

Can secrecy and security be maintained if unions are allowed to represent the workers?

Government officials hope so. They say the CIO and AFL unions at Oak Ridge, Tenn., have caused no breach of security.

But the government is worried about some other atomic centers. It hasn't yet permitted the official recognition of unions in atomic plants other than at Oak Ridge. It is moving with extreme caution. For there are ticklish problems ahead.

For example, two unions whose officers have not filed non-communist oaths under the Taft-Hartley law are active in the atomic industry. These unions are:

1. The United Public Workers (CIO), which is campaigning for members at the Argonne National laboratory, Chicago, operated by the University of Chicago.

2. The United Electrical Workers (CIO), which represents the production and maintenance employes at the Peek street atomic power laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y., operated by General Electric.

Here is how this union happens to represent those employes: The atomic laboratory just "grew up" inside General Electric's regular plant at Schenectady. The employes were already members of the Electrical Workers, which have long held a contract with General Electric. The same contract covered the laboratory workers.

ORGANIZERS ACTIVE

In addition, organizers for the CIO Electrical Workers have been seen in recent months at Hanford, Wash., where General Electric has taken over atomic operations.

But the most active group at Hanford so far is the Pasco-Kennewick Metal Trades Council (AFL).

The 50,000 workers in the atomic industry are in a peculiar position. They work in plants owned by the government, where the need for security is vital. But they are employes of private companies.

Private employes are guaranteed by law the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing. But so far—except for the 20,400 workers at Oak Ridge—atomic employes are largely denied this legal right.

A big reason is that the U.S. atomic Energy commission says it isn't yet sure of the loyalty of all the union officers in the atomic picture.

The commission, in a recent, little-noticed report to a congressional committee, made these two points:

1. Non-communist affidavits. Some unions that are organizing in atomic plants haven't filed them, and neither have their national officers.

2. Loyalty investigations. The Atomic Energy act provided that all persons with access to restricted information must be investigated as to "character, associations, and loyalty." Atomic employes have been cleared under this provision, but what about their union officers outside the plants?

LOYALTY VITAL

The commission said the loyalty of a union's international president—or of any other officers with authority over the local union—"may well be of equal importance to the loyalty of the individual employes."

The same applies to union negotiators and grievance handlers.

The commission warned of an unpleasant result if the disciplinary power of an international president should be "diverted to subversive ends."

The commission said no problem of this nature has arisen at Oak Ridge. All the officers of the CIO Chemical Workers and the various AFL unions in the Oak Ridge plants whose loyalty was considered essential submitted voluntarily to FBI investigations.

The wartime ban on unions at Oak Ridge was lifted two years ago by the Army, before the Atomic Energy Commission was created. So far as security is concerned, it has worked out all right.

But the commission said "it does not follow that experiences elsewhere will be identical."

GETS $3,377,364

NEW YORK —(AP)— Columbia University received $3,377,364 in donations during the 1946-47 fiscal year, the largest amount of contributions since 1946. The largest gift was $1,509,389.12 from the estate of the late Frederic Bancroft, librarian, lecturer and author, for studies in American history.

FAIR ENOUGH

NEW ALBANY, Ind.—(AP)—Hoosiers and Kentuckians who live in one state but work in the other were cheered by news that reciprocal income tax agreement had been reached by the two states. Kentuckians may get a refund from Indiana for taxes paid there, and vice versa for Hoosiers.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?
If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:
Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.
Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. —Adv.

Cancer kills more mothers of school age children than any other disease

• Once, not too long ago—Mom heard her prayers at night, dressed her in the morning and got her off to school. . . . But Mom went away and didn't come back.

• • •

No home is safe from cancer. Last year cancer killed more mothers of growing families than any other disease. Tragic—but even more tragic is the fact that many of these deaths need never have happened.

Many of the mothers who now die could be cured —IF they learned to recognize cancer's symptoms and seek medical advice immediately—IF sufficient money can be found for the cancer research needed to discover the causes of the disease, to perfect its treatment.

The American Cancer Society, through its program of public education and medical research, is dedicated to the conquest of cancer. Will you help?

Nationwide Search Begins For Contaminated Glucose

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The food and drug administration has sent 300 inspectors and chemists on a nationwide roundup of a contaminated glucose shipment reported capable of causing injury or death.

An FDA official said three deaths are known to have occurred after patients were given injections of the glucose-saline solution.

He said, however, that the patients in all cases were quite ill before and it has not yet been determined whether the injections directly led to the fatalities.

The official said the deaths were reported from Hazard and Louisville, Ky., and Miami, Fla. Besides those places, injuries also have been reported from injections in Birmingham, Ala., and Albany, Ga., he said. Ten injuries have been listed thus far.

The drug being sought in every state is called "Code No. CM 864 of 5 per cent glucose in normal saline." It was prepared by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. The Cutter company and the American Medical association are participating in the round up of the shipment and in warnings to all physicians and hospitals to check their stocks.

The FDA official told a reporter that laboratory checks have gone far enough to show the material is contaminated with bacteria of a general type known as "gram negative rods."

He said several small animals in laboratories have died after injections and that all have developed "very striking fever," with temperatures climbing rapidly.

Glucose-saline is the most commonly used intravenous fluid for treatment of patients suffering from such conditions as shock and collapse.

The FDA has issued a general alarm to all of its agencies throughout the country and asked the help of state and local authorities in the effort to track down all containers of the shipment. Persons discovering possession of the material are urged to contact the FDA or other health authorities.

Art Show Judge to Speak Friday at Mansfield Library

A. Reid Winsey, who will be one of the judges for the May show of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild will come to Mansfield Friday for a pre-exhibition talk on "Art Education."

The meeting will be held in the Public library from 7:30 until 9 p. m. The public is invited.

Prof. Winsey, famed as head of the art department at DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind., is a former president of the Indiana Federation of Art clubs and has served as a judge for the Hoosier Art salon.

During the war he served on the art faculty of the Army University center at Shrivenham, England, and at the Army school at Biarritz, France, and as a lecturer before service groups throughout occupied Germany and Austria. He returned to his post as head of the art department at DePauw in September, 1946.

"We feel proud to have procurred Prof. Winsey as one of our judges, Mrs. Roger Bolin, head of publicity for the exhibition, said today. "He not only is an artist of distinction but a teacher in whose art classes overcrowding is an annual problem. Art teachers in the city should be particularly interested in his talk here."

Judge Closely Linked to Unions Rules on Labor Law Provision

THE ESSAY in which Federal Judge Ben Moore condemned as unconstitutional that portion of the Taft-Hartley law forbidding unions to spend money in connection with federal elections is an affront to reason and experience.

This was the case in which Philip Murray, the president of the CIO and the CIO itself violated the law with intent to test the right of Congress to enact this forbiddance.

Murray was for years an associate and political protege of John L. Lewis within the United Mine Workers.

Lewis carried Murray into the CIO among other political baggage in the 'thirties. After Lewis quit the unsalaried job of president of the CIO in 1940, retaining his veritable throne as king of the mine workers, Murray became president of the CIO.

★

Their old friendship, described by Murray long ago as an affection akin to love, turned to hatred. At a CIO convention in Boston, a year after their parting, Murray cried out that Lewis had actually tried to have his life by deviling him when he was down of a thrombosis. Murray compared his tribulations to the passion of Christ, spoke of his Gethsemane and likened a routine double-cross of one union politician by another to the betrayal of the savior.

Lewis is a Republican and Murray is a new deal Democrat, but they have a common cause against the Taft-Hartley act.

Judge Moore is a Democrat, so listing himself frankly in Who's Who. I found him bashful on the subject of his old association in the law firm of Townsend. Bock, Moore and Townsend, of Charleston, W. Va., counsel for the United Mine Workers. But, although the cat had got his honor's tongue, and he wouldn't answer questions about himself, Who's Who says that he was a member of this law firm for 11 years. And court records in Washington and other information prove that T. C. Townsend, the senior partner, is and for a long time has been counsel for John L. Lewis and the UMW.

In the Murray-CIO case Judge Moore decided that the clause abridged freedom of speech and of the press and assembly.

He said those rights were most important around election time and, further, that the law admittedly tried to suppress propaganda for and against candidates for office by union publications.

★

Now let us unmask. In the first place, this judge knows that the CIO and the unions which compose it are not voluntary associations of people.

It is true that freedom of speech, the press and assembly is precious. But Moore knows that these freedoms almost invariably are exercised in the union papers to promote the politics, policies and personal ambitions of the union bosses in violation of the rights and sentiments of the members.

Anyone who has read union publications, as I am sure Moore has for years, must realize that they mock freedom of expression.

Little-Known Old, and Odd, Facts About New York Presented Anew

THINGS I NEVER KNEW—Just about the time City Hall was being built a young man was indicted for the murder of his sweetheart. . . . Political influence resulted in Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr (the town's top criminal lawyers) uniting in the accused's defense. . . . The judge was named Lansing. . . . He suggested acquittal. . . . The aunt of the murdered girl interrupted the jury foreman as he announced: "Not guilty!" by shrieking: "There is no justice in heaven if those who have freed the slayer of my niece go unpunished!" . . . The weird finale to the case was written by history.

Hamilton, in his prime, was killed in the duel with Burr. . . . Burr died in disgrace, hated and despised, and Lansing, the judge, disappeared as mysteriously as the long missing Judge Crater.

Each eye in the Statue of Liberty is 2½ feet wide. (Always loved gals with big eyes) . . . Although the origin of "Manhattan" has never been determined, in Indian it means "celestial place." . . . There are 73 elevators in the Empire State Bldg. (Express cars reach the 80th floor in a minute.) . . . A skyscraper isn't officially a skyscraper unless it is over 30 stories high (Manhattan Island has over 100 of them.) . . . There is a rule that the Public library (on 5th at 42nd street) "must be open to the public sometime every 24 hours."

★

There is a stone fountain in Tompkins Square on Manhattan's lower Eastside. It is not unlike those in many a city square or park. . . . The design is simple. On its face are depicted two tots (a boy and a girl) in an appealing pose. . . . To the bystander this seems nothing unusual, since hundreds of children play in the area. . . . But there is something especially significant about this fountain. . . . It was erected in memory of the many children (and their kin) who perished on the ill-fated, pleasure-bound "Slocum."

McDougal Street, rendezvous of the literati, has a basement hideaway where they serve nothing but coffee. A regular cup costs a nickel. A demi-tasse costs a dime! A mustache mugful costs 15c. . . . New Yorkers have been deceived into believing they can shed tonnage by walking a lot. The fact is you have to walk 10 miles (or 5 hours at a leisurely gait) to shed the 300 calories of an ice-cream sundae. . . . You ignoramuses probably didden know there are about ten million bricks in the Empire State Bldg. . . . Duffy Square (at 47th and B'way) is actually a triangle.

Queer, grotesque, incongruous things constantly happen in a big city such as ours—but for sheer ridiculousness little can surpass the obstinacy of an early New Yorker named Brevoort. . . . He owned considerable real estate—acres of it—in lower Manhattan. . . . He was older than George Bernard Shaw when he died, but unlike Shaw, needed only one bit of horseplay to make him renowned. . . . When the city fathers wanted to cut through his immense property (from B'way to 4th Ave. at 11th St.) to further the wheels of progress, he staged a bitter legal fight. . . . The fight prevented the slice and left the still unbroken space alongside Grace church.

His objection (to what the city wanted to do) was that it would destroy a favorite tree! . . . Today all that is remembered of the old gent is the hotel on 5th near Washington Sq. bearing his name.

Contract Awarding Delayed

Courthouse Project Offers Studied

Four bids for labor and materials and one bid for materials for painting buildings at the Richland County home were opened today by the county commissioners.

Awarding of contracts was deferred until Monday.

Bids for labor and materials included: Arthur Painting company, Akron, $3,000; F. L. Daugherty, Mansfield, $4,437.50; Glasener company, Mansfield, $4,679.55.

The bid of the Hoehn and Potter Paint Contractors of Marion was rejected because it was not accompanied by a certified check representing five per cent of its bid.

The J. C. Morris ompany of Shelby submitted a bid of $624 for furnishing the paint only.

The work calls for painting the exteriors of the main building, chicken house, hog house, a garage, wagon shed, slaughter house, main barn, straw barn and tenant house.

Commissioners rejected two bids for furnishing and installing fluorescent lighting fixtures in five offices.

John W. Selby, chairman of the board, said the bids had to be rejected because the specifications did not call for new wiring to go from the outlets to new special panels on each floor.

He said the readvertising for bids would also call for installing the fluorescent lighting in common pleas court room, the sheriff's office in the courthouse and the Aid to Dependent Children office.

Readvertising will start immediately, Selby said.

Auto Sales On Upgrade

Nearly 800,000 new passenger cars were registered during the first quarter of 1948, R. L. Polk and company, statisticians for the automotive industry, Detroit, estimated yesterday.

This compares with 688,110 registered for the first quarter of 1947 and represents an increase of 27.9 per cent.

The figures for the first quarter include a projection of tabulations from 23 states for March, where registrations of new passenger cars totaled 99,712 units, as compared with 90,692 from the same states for March, 1947.

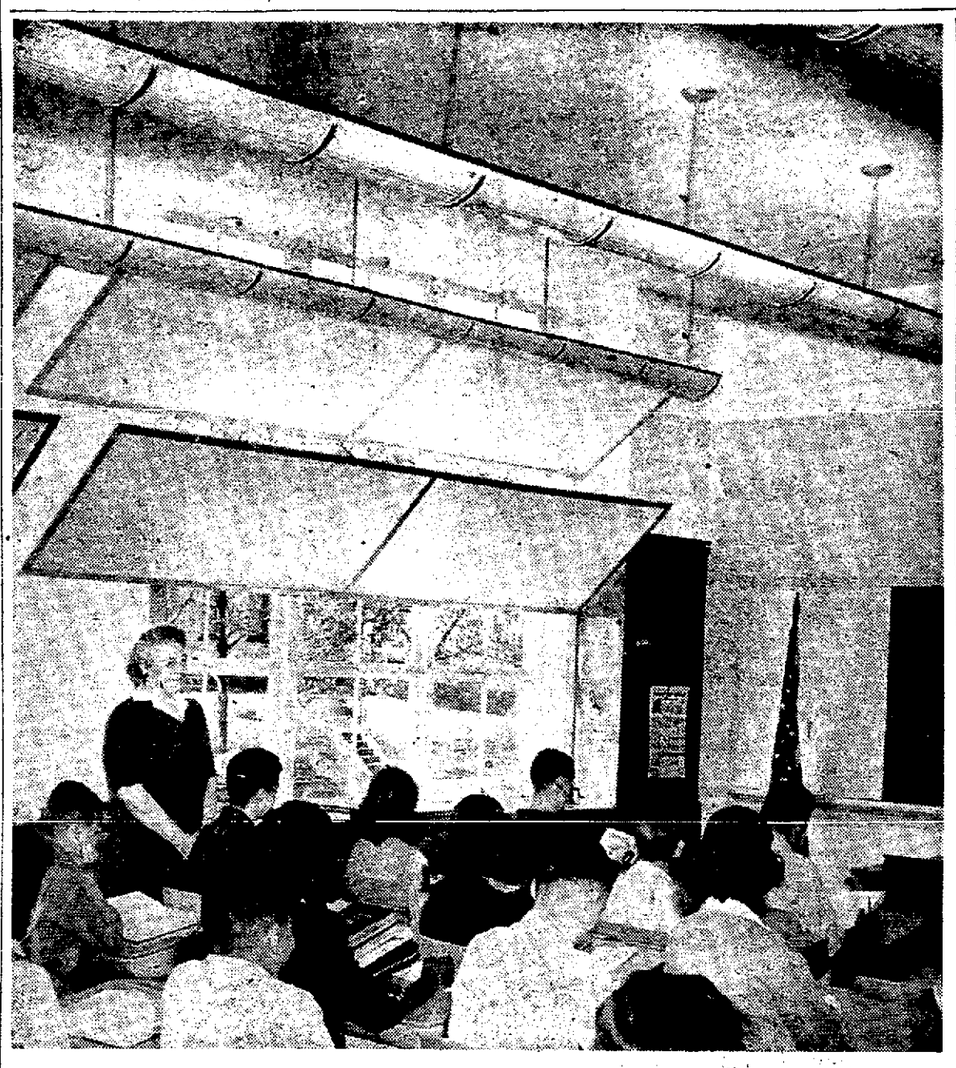
New truck sales, as represented by registrations, totaled 34,914 units for 23 states in March, as compared with 32,040 from the same states last year.

Rector's Mother Taken By Death

Word was received today from Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of Grace Episcopal church, of the death of his mother, Mrs. Emma Peard, at Williamsport, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. Peard and their son Richard, were called to Williamsport Saturday. Funeral services and burial for Mrs. Peard, who was past 90, were held yesterday afternoon at Williamsport.

The Peards will return to Mansfield Saturday and Rev. Peard will have charge of Sunday services at the church.



IDEAL LIGHTING—This Simpson junior high school classroom was pointed out to 300 of the nation's educators yesterday as a nearly-ideal one for school use. The room incorporates features designed to provide unusually fine visual environment for classroom study. The tops of the new low desks occupied by pupils in Mrs. A. M. Knote's history class are finished in a light color so as to reflect a minimum of light. Walls are painted a light shade with a high reflective quality. Double diffusers or fiber glass at the windows distribute daylight evenly about the room. Overhead fluorescent lights provide artificial illumination when needed.—(News-Journal photo)

Asks Budget Estimates

Morgan Seeks Figures On Operating Needs

The first in a series of steps in preparing the 1949 city budget was taken yesterday.

Service-Safety Director E. L. Morgan sent requests to city departments to submit estimates of the amount of money the various departments will need to operate in 1949.

Only departments that draw their revenue from the general fund or local taxes are concerned. Street, water, sewer and garbage departments receive operating funds from earned income.

After the departments have submitted their estimates a budget is prepared, approved by city council and sent to the budget commission of the county.

Theoretically, the commission, made up of the county auditor, treasurer and prosecutor, studies the budget, approves it and levies taxes to supply the needed income.

However, local taxes cannot be raised above the present rate without the approval of voters so, in effect, the budget must be made to coincide with estimated income from taxes.

Appleseed Concert Set For Tomorrow

The annual concert of Johnny Appleseed band and orchestra will take place Friday in the auditorium under the direction of Miss Jean Worley, music instructor at the school.

Forty-five members of the band and 42 in the orchestra will participate in a program of ensemble and specialty numbers. The concert will start at 8 p. m.

Poor Lighting Held Factor In Low Grades

A plea for improved lighting in school buildings was presented late yesterday to the 300 educators who attended the all-day school lighting conference at John Simpson junior high school yesterday.

In discussing "Lighting and Child Development," Dr. D. B. Harmon said, "studies in Texas showed that the percentage of children who could not see tasks as the curriculum said they should increased from 20 per cent in the first grade to 80 per cent in the fifth grade.

"Improper lighting in classrooms is probably one of the factors responsible for this increase."

Dr. Harmon is executive director of the Texas Inter-Professional committee on child development in Austin, Texas. An article on his work will appear in Life magazine in May.

GLARE STRAINS EYE

"Glare puts the eye under a definite strain," said Dr. Dean F. Smiley, consultant for the American Medical Association. Smiley spoke on the "Medical Aspects of Lighting," in a talk preceding Harmon.

He advised the group, "In my opinion, we will do well to move cautiously as we advance our minimum light intensity."

Attendance at the conference indicated the serious study educators are devoting to the problems of equipping new school buildings and modernizing old ones.

Mrs. Richard Faulkner, member of the Urbana school board, said she felt that the conference had accomplished a great deal. In her opinion the two special classrooms at Simpson demonstrating modern school facilities were the highlight of the meeting. She was especially interested because her school is planning to build a new section.

"This conference will start people thinking. They'll go home and study their own situation," said A. D. St. Clair of the state department of education.

Liederkranz Singers To Give Concert

The Mansfield Liederkranz society will present its annual concert Saturday at 8:30 p. m., in the Germania hall at Fourth and Main streets.

A "Little German band" from Senior high school, directed by Eugene Griesback, a pupil, will be featured in the entertainment. The bandsmen, members of a German class at the school, will use their share of the proceeds for bundles to send to war victims overseas.

Appearing in the concert will be the 50-voice Liederkranz mixed chorus which will present a program in English and German. Numbers will be provided by women's and men's choruses. Soloists will be Mrs. Sophia Gregory and Harry Meier.

Arrangements for the concert are in charge of Gus Rehberg. Tickets, which will cost 75 cents each, will be available at the door.

EARLY CLASSES—

Mansfield students who attend Ashland college are finding the going pretty tough these days, according to one freshman. "We have to get up at 5:30," he groaned, "in order to get to classes that start now at 7 a. m., our time but 8, according to Ashland time. It's sure a grind."

★

CACTUS BLOOMS—

Mrs. Donald Miller of Lexington, R. D. 2, has an unusual cactus plant. The blooming plant has light orchid bell-shaped flowers which give off a delicate perfume. Mrs. Miller purchased the plant four years ago, and this is only the second time it has bloomed since.

★

PARK SPRUCED UP—

The new, trim look Prospect park trees are sporting is credited to the joint cooperation of the Prospect Park association and the City Parks association. Prospect park officials who thought the some 60 maple trees in the park needed a good cropping started a drive to raise funds for the work. When they found the funds weren't sufficient, the city association helped. Work on the trees was done by a Prospect park member, W. H. Zerby of the Zerby Tree Service.

★

HUNTING FATHER—

A young prisoner of war in Yugoslovia is hunting his father. The Mansfield Red Cross chapter has received from international headquarters a request to assist in finding John Nithammer, believed by his son, Johan Nithammer, to have last resided in Mansfield. The son has had no news of his father for ten years. The Red Cross asked that information about Nithammer be telephoned to the chapter house, 1494-6.

$6,000 Reported In Cancer Fund

Cancer fund receipts stood at $6,000 today, and contributions are beginning to come in faster, Richard Wolford, campaign chairman, said.

However, because of the necessary slowness in industrial division work, the campaign will be extended another week, Wolford said.

"But we're definitely encouraged this morning," he said. "It looks now as if we'll make the goal. If donations keep rolling in as they have the past few days we'll have no trouble."

23 Scout Leaders Complete Training

Twenty-three Girl Scout leaders have completed a first aid training course at the Red Cross chapter house.

The course, consisting of six lessons of three hours each, was given under supervision of Mrs. Julia Raby, of General hospital. She was assisted by Gerald Coron, staff water safety and first aid director.

A tool box valued at $40 was reported stolen yesterday from a Hoffman Manufacturing company truck. The theft took place while the truck was parked at the rear of the company on North Diamond street, police were told.

Discusses Job With Mayor

Salary Called Too Small

Mentioned as a possible successor to E. L. Morgan as Mansfield service-safety director, Russell Porch, former First ward councilman, told the News-Journal today that he couldn't afford to accept the post if it's offered to him.

Porch, who has been employed by the Denman Tire and Rubber company in Warren for the past month, said he had discussed the job with Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

"I just couldn't afford to take it, though. It doesn't pay enough," Porch said today.

"I did talk to the mayor when I was home over the week end, but I don't think our conversation could be called an offer."

Morgan resigned last week, effective May 8, to take up duties as manager of the Culligan Soft Water service.

WITHHOLDS ACTION

Mayor Vaughn, who left last night for Louisville to attend the Kentucky Derby, said "some things still had to be worked out" and he would not announce the name of the new director before next week.

Porch, a Republican, served as city councilman for 12 years and as chairman of the council finance committee during his last two terms in office.

Porch declined to run for reelection last year. He has been mentioned as a possible GOP candidate for mayor next year if Mayor Vaughn doesn't seek reelection.

Players Close 21st Season

An even larger and more enthusiastic crowd attended last night the second and last performance of the Community Players' "The Return of Peter Grimm" than attended the opening night. About 800 persons saw the play presented at John Simpson auditorium under the direction of Helen Bacon. Miss Bacon is a veteran of the group but this is the first play she has directed since 1945.

Last night's performance concluded the twenty-first season of Mansfield's original amateur theatrical group.

The group plans to start a Community Players Summer festival. It will be the first Mansfield group to have a summer theatrical project.

Music before and after the play was furnished by the Mansfield Protective association, local 159 of the American Federation of Musicians. The orchestra, directed by Laurence Todd, won high praise from the audience.

Richard Vaughn of 218 Clairmont avenue suffered a bruised right elbow yesterday when he was struck by an open rear door of a Deluxe taxi cab.

Vaughn was loading rugs on the top of his car on Temple court when he was hit at 3:05 p. m. The driver of the taxicab, Larry M. Sanborn, 17, of 20 Antibus place, said the door of the cab came open as he was turning the corner at North Main street. The door hit a Mansfield Rug and Linoleum company truck parked on North Main, then continued down the court and hit Vaughn.

Buying Goes Up as Food Prices Drop

Index at New Low For Year

NEW YORK—(AP)—Food prices eased this week in many sections and volume of buying increased.

Many small independent stores reported sales were higher. Wholesalers said inquiries from grocers were more numerous than last week and dollar sales volume was sharply up from a year ago.

Canners reported buyers more active and abandoning the pessimism of recent weeks. Bargain hunters were looking for carryovers if prices were lower than anticipated costs for new packs.

The food component of the Associated Press wholesale commodity price index was at a new low for the year, 145 12. The index is based on 100 for average 1926 prices. A week ago the food component was 150 62 and a month ago 147.71. The year's high was 165.58 Jan. 2.

The total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 commonly used foods was $6.76 Tuesday, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The previous Tuesday it was $6.85, and a year ago $6.02. The only foods to advance in price over the previous Tuesday were beef, ham, cheese and rice.

MEAT PRICES CUT

In the New York retail markets the price of steak was cut as much as 10 cents a pound today and ground beef four cents a pound.

Wholesale butter prices were also down about one cent a pound in New York.

The trade kept a sharp eye on Washington as the long battle between the butter and oleomargarine forces reached its climax in the House of Representatives.

The department of agriculture reported meat production was currently 10 per cent below last year. It attributed the drop to the decline in number of meat animals on farms.

Grocers said their customers were adding to canned food stocks on the pantry shelves and were buying more fresh fruits and vegetables than in recent weeks. The demand for fresh meats and poultry was firm.

Foreign requests for dried fruits increased. Exporters showed interest in canned foods.

Braves Win Third Straight, Move for Top

Cuff Stuff

By

Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

AMERICAN LEGION junior baseball is 21 years old this season. . . . The Legion program has developed hundreds of professional baseball players. . . . In the opening game of the season, between Philadelphia and Boston, 15 of the 18 starters were Legion graduates. . . . The Red Sox use an all Legion infield. . . . Three of the quartet—Stan Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr—tied a major league record by banging three straight homers in the inaugural. . . . Development of players in Mansfield will be speeded up in years to come since the Hot Stove league plans to initiate a complete junior baseball program this summer. . . . The two younger leagues (under 16) will feed players into the Senior high, Legion junior and major (16 to 18 years) league clubs. . . . Then within a few years perhaps Mansfield can have a good Class A amateur league. . . . Right now, it appears, we will have only three semi-pro or "am" clubs in operation in Mansfield. . . . Two of the teams are set with the Mansfield Grays still in the formulative stage. . . . T. & E. Tavern opens Sunday with the Mansfield Hawks playing, May 2. . . . The Grays have added an outfield fence at Blue Goose and the playing surface will be fine.

★

THE BROWNS, Cleveland variety, have a make or break assignment come next November. . . . It seems the schedule makers have figured the best way to beat the Browns. . . . Cleveland has three All-America conference games in eight days, all on the road. . . . And a cross-country hop is sandwiched between. . . . On Sunday, Nov. 21, the Browns go against the Yankees in New York and then jump across the continent for a Turkey day tilt with the Dons in Los Angeles. . . . To make the cycle complete, Cleveland goes to San Francisco to battle the 49ers, Sunday, Nov. 28.

JOE DIMAGGIO, the Yankee Clipper, passes on a bit of sage advice on how to get a good start hitting the horschide:

"Take good care of your bats. Coat them with a mixture of olive oil and resin. Then roast them over a fire as you would a barbecued chicken, turning the bat as though it were on a spit. The resin will melt and stick to the bat and soak in because of the olive oil. Then sandpaper the bat smooth. This hardens the wood and makes for sharper hitting."

Crestline Plans Softball Loop

CRESTLINE — The six team Crestline softball league will open May 12 with the American Legion and Junior Chamber of Commerce teams meeting in the curtain raiser. Motorists Mutual Insurance company and the Odd Fellows will meet in the second contest on May 14.

Other members of the league are the Eagles and the VFW. Twilight games will be played until June 9 when night play begins.

Swede May Fight Ray

CHICAGO — (UP) — Anton Raadik, durable Swedish middleweight, today was offered $15,000 to fight Sugar Ray Robinson, world's welterweight champion, in a non-title bout at International Ampitheatre, June 2.

Lefty Spahn Faces Only 28 Phillies

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Things are looking up for Billy Southworth and his Boston Braves after a week of disaster. Excellent pitching jobs by Warren Spahn, Red Barrett and Bill Voiselle have lifted the would-be contenders from the cellar gloom.

Spahn's first win of the season yesterday (Wednesday) marked the return to normalcy of Manager Southworth's gang. For Spahn and Johnny Sain, as 20-game winners last year, were expected to lead the Braves toward the 1948 flag. Spahn missed his first time out and Sain failed twice.

It was Voiselle's three-hit shutout of Brooklyn that yanked the Braves off the floor Monday. Barrett followed with a six-hitter Tuesday. Then came Spahn's two-hit gem against the Phillies.

Spahn's job was a real sparkler. He faced only 28 Phillies in his 7-0 victory, walked none and fanned four.

Johnny Vander Meer made it a lefthanded day in the National by stopping Chicago with six hits while his Cincinnati mates clubbed Johnny Schmitz and Don Carlsen for an 8-1 score on 12 hits.

MUELLER INJURED

There was bad news for Cincy, too. Catcher Ray Mueller fractured his right ankle sliding into home. He will be out for 60 days.

The New York-at-Brooklyn game was rained out but both clubs provided disturbing news. From the Giants came word that Catcher Walker Cooper, who has hit four homers, has a chip fracture on his left knee. He was injured April 21 but caught four of the last five games. He will be out several days.

Pitcher Harry Taylor of the Dodgers learned he may have to undergo an appendicitis operation. The hurler, who was to have faced the Giants yesterday, complained of severe stomach pains. He is being held in a hospital for further examination.

BROWNS BEATEN

Cold weather postponed the scheduled night game between St Louis and Pittsburgh in the National. In the American Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia and Cleveland at Chicago were called off because of cold, rain or wet grounds.

Detroit took the sole American league game, 9-4, over St. Louis with a 15-hit assault on four Brownie pitchers.

Leahy Featured At Buck Clinic

COLUMBUS — (UP)— Frank Leahy, head football coach at Notre Dame, will disclose a few of his grid secrets during Ohio State University's 17th annual clinic for high school football coaches here May 7-8.

Leahy will discuss and explain the "T" formation offense at the morning session May 7. Buckeye Coach Wesley Fesler and his staff will take over after Leahy is finished.

The clinic will end with the annual Ohio State intra-squad football game the afternoon of Saturday, May 8.

1,000 Expected

CLEVELAND—(AP)—More than 1,000 college and high school football coaches—a record representation for any such affair in the country—are expected to attend the two-day sessions of the Cleveland Browns' third annual clinic opening tomorrow.

Vander Meer Is Old Self In 8-1 Victory Over Cubs

CINCINNATI — (AP) — It was like the days of old at Crosley field yesterday. John Henry Vander Meer pitched like the Vandy of some six years ago and, when he finished his mound chore, it was a six-hit job and Cincinnati had an 8-1 victory.

The Chicago Cubs were Vandy's victims and, although he fanned only three, the Redleg left-hander was in command throughout.

GOOD AS '39

Some observers considered Johnny's performance comparable with his form of 1941 and '42 when he won 16 and 18 games for the Reds. His speed, however, was not on a par with the 1938 season when he turned in two consecutive no-hit games.

Vandy's mound job was dimmed, however, by the club's loss for at least 60 days of catcher Ray Mueller, who suffered a fractured right ankle in scoring one of the Reds' runs.

Mueller's injury occurred in the fifth inning as he slid into the plate and his run broke a 1-1 tie.

The Redleg receiver had reached first on an error and then moved over to second as first sacker Ted Kluszewski beat out an infield hit.

Johnny Schmitz, the Chicago starter, threw wild to first attempting to catch Kluszewski off the sack and both runners advanced. Mueller came home on second baseman Bobby Amams' outfield fly and shortstop Virgil Stallcup counted Kluszewski with a single.

The Reds scored another run in the sixth and then iced the game with four counters in the next frame.

The St Louis Cardinals came to Crosley field today for a two game set with Redleg Ken Raffensberger opposing Murry Dickson.

Mansfield Pin Quints Fail In Assault on ABC Leaders

DETROIT, Mich.—A small crew of Mansfield keglers moves out in quest of a berth among the leaders in the minor events of the 45th annual American Bowling Congress championships here today after failing to threaten in team competition.

Mansfield Leiderkranz, winners of the North Central Ohio Traveling league race, paced the attack with a modest 908-882-874—2664 effort as Carl Engelhorn hooked a 199 leadoff and 560 series.

The high for the evening was 2827, scored by Michigan Abrasive. Eddie and Earl Linsz of Cleveland, champions last year with 3032, shot 2799.

Indians Hope Layoff Didn't Affect Hitting

ST LOUIS — (AP) — Cleveland's red-hot Indians, still the only undefeated club in the major leagues, moved here today for a two-game series with the St. Louis Browns.

The tribesmen were forced to cool their heels for the second straight day yesterday as rain washed out an engagement with the Chicago White Sox and brought about a change in Manager Lou Boudreau's hurling plans.

Bob Lemon and Bob Feller will pitch the series against the Browns, with Lemon taking the hill today in search of his second triumph. His last assignment was Friday in Detroit when he beat the Tigers, 8 to 2.

LEMON AGAIN SUNDAY

Lemon might come back again Sunday against the Tigers in Cleveland, said Boudreau, who plans to use him with only two days of rest, provided he has an easy game tomorrow. Known as a rubber-armed hurler, Lemon can work with a minimum of relaxation between assignments.

Feller will be aiming for his third straight decision tomorrow and second over the Browns, whom he blanked in the season opener in Cleveland last week, 4 to 0. The Cleveland ace is not due to work again until the Indians open their first eastern tour at Philadelphia next Tuesday, but he will be available for relief duty Sunday.

Two Games Played In Ohio-Indiana

COLUMBUS—(UP)—The Ohio Indiana league was scheduled to get back in action tonight after rain forced postponement of two of last night's four scheduled games.

The Springfield at Zanesville and Richmond at Lima games were called off because of rain. In the two games that went on as scheduled, the Muncie Reds turned the tables on the Marion Cubs, 5 to 4; and the Portsmouth Athletics, newest entry in the circuit, scored their first victory by defeating the Newark Yankees, 4 to 3.

Experts May Swing Away From Citation, Jones Says Coaltown Is Ready To Run

By LEO H. PETERSEN

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(UP) A stable mate came up today to challenge the hottest betting favorite a Kentucky Derby has ever had.

All spring there hasn't been anything around that looked like a challenge to Calumet's star three-year-old Citation and the betting situation became such that a lot of bookmakers took the bay colt off the wagering lists

But there were indications today that that situation may change before 6 30 p. m. EDT Saturday post time for the 74th annual running of the Derby—because of another Calumet speedster, Coaltown.

GREAT WORKOUT

Coaltown which never ran as a two-year-old because of a breathing ailment, has been picking up support gradually since his record-breaking win in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Friday It still was mushrooming today because of a sensational early morning workout yesterday.

It was such a good one that even Ben Jones, who will be listed in the Derby records as the trainer of both the Calumet stars, wavered a little in what otherwise he would go to the post second choice to the Calumet stars.

ONLY 3 OTHERS

Only three other horses in addition to Citation, Coaltown and Billings are sure bets to start. They are Escadru, My Request, the Wood Memorial winner, and Grandpere.

There still were two probables in the field—Galedo, which will go if the track is muddy, and Shy Guy. Shy Guy's trainer, Jack Hodgins, said, however, that he would recommend to owner Charles Fisher that the horse not be entered.

★

LOUISVILLE — (INS) — Said Coaltown's jockey, Leroy Pierson when he dismounted from yesterday's early morning workout:

"I'll beat that Arcaro so far on Saturday that he'll think he's still riding in the Chesapeake stakes, or the Derby trial."

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(INS)— Here are the probable starters in Saturday's 74th running of the mile and a quarter Kentucky Derby:

Horse	Jockey	Prob. Odds
Citation	E. Arcaro	1-10
Coaltown	N. L. Pierson	1-10
My Request	Doug Dodson	6-1
Escadru	Arnold Kirkland	12-1
Billings	Mel Peterson	20-1
Grandpere	Johnny Gilbert	20-1

All horses carry 126 pounds.

Buying Goes Up as Food Prices Drop

Index at New Low For Year

NEW YORK—(AP)—Food prices eased this week in many sections and volume of buying increased.

Many small independent stores reported sales were higher. Wholesalers said inquiries from grocers were more numerous than last week and dollar sales volume was sharply up from a year ago.

Canners reported buyers more active and abandoning the pessimism of recent weeks. Bargain hunters were looking for carryovers if prices were lower than anticipated costs for new packs.

The food component of the Associated Press wholesale commodity price index was at a new low for the year, 145.12. The index is based on 100 for average 1926 prices. A week ago the food component was 150.62 and a month ago 147.71. The year's high was 165.58 Jan. 2.

The total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 commonly used foods was $6.76 Tuesday, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The previous Tuesday it was $6.85, and a year ago $6.02. The only foods to advance in price over the previous Tuesday were beef, ham, cheese and rice.

MEAT PRICES CUT

In the New York retail markets the price of steak was cut as much as 10 cents a pound today and ground beef four cents a pound.

Wholesale butter prices were also down about one cent a pound in New York.

The trade kept a sharp eye on Washington as the long battle between the butter and oleomargarine forces reached its climax in the House of Representatives.

The department of agriculture reported meat production was currently 10 per cent below last year. It attributed the drop to the decline in number of meat animals on farms.

Grocers said their customers were adding to canned food stocks on the pantry shelves and were buying more fresh fruits and vegetables than in recent weeks. The demand for fresh meats and poultry was firm.

Foreign requests for dried fruits increased. Exporters showed interest in canned foods.

FORMER DEAN of Western Reserve university's graduate school at Cleveland, Wilbur W. White will be inaugurated May 11 as the eighth president of the University of Toledo (International)

Auditor's Son Hurt In Crash

Smith of Galion, Tuesday. The youth was treated at City hospital.

Will Occupy Pulpit

Rev. H. N. Solliday, minister of Church of Christ, Hedrick, Iowa, will occupy the pulpit in the Millersburg Church of Christ for both morning and evening service, Sunday. Rev. Solliday is an applicant for the pastorate of the Millersburg church.

Braves Win Third Straight, Move for Top

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

AMERICAN LEGION junior baseball is 21 years old this season. . . . The Legion program has developed hundreds of professional baseball players. . . . In the opening game of the season, between Philadelphia and Boston, 15 of the 18 starters were Legion graduates. . . . The Red Sox use an all Legion infield. . . . Three of the quartet—Stan Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr—tied a major league record by banging three straight homers in the inaugural. . . . Development of players in Mansfield will be speeded up in years to come since the Hot Stove league plans to initiate a complete junior baseball program this summer. . . . The two younger leagues (under 16) will feed players into the Senior high, Legion junior and major (16 to 18 years) league clubs. . . . Then within a few years perhaps Mansfield can have a good Class A amateur league. . . . Right now, it appears, we will have only three semi-pro or "am" clubs in operation in Mansfield. . . . Two of the teams are set with the Mansfield Grays still in the formulative stage. . . . T. & E. Tavern opens Sunday with the Mansfield Hawks playing, May 2. . . . The Grays have added an outfield fence at Blue Goose and the playing surface will be fine.

★

THE BROWNS, Cleveland variety, have a make or break assignment come next November. . . . It seems the schedule makers have figured the best way to beat the Browns. . . . Cleveland has three All-America conference games in eight days, all on the road. . . . And a cross-country hop is sandwiched between. . . . On Sunday, Nov. 21, the Browns go against the Yankees in New York and then jump across the continent for a Turkey day tilt with the Dons in Los Angeles. . . . To make the cycle complete, Cleveland goes to San Francisco to battle the 49ers, Sunday, Nov. 28.

JOE DIMAGGIO, the Yankee Clipper, passes on a bit of sage advice on how to get a good start hitting the horsehide:

"Take good care of your bats Coat them with a mixture of olive oil and resin. Then roast them over a fire as you would a barbecued chicken, turning the bat as though it were on a spit. The resin will melt and stick to the bat and soak in because of the olive oil. Then sandpaper the bat smooth. This hardens the wood and makes for sharper hitting."

Crestline Plans Softball Loop

CRESTLINE — The six team Crestline softball league will open May 12 with the American Legion and Junior Chamber of Commerce teams meeting in the curtain raiser. Motorists Mutual Insurance company and the Odd Fellows will meet in the second contest on May 14.

Other members of the league are the Eagles and the VFW. Twilight games will be played until June 9 when night play begins.

Swede May Fight Ray

CHICAGO — (UP) — Anton Raadik, durable Swedish middleweight, today was offered $15,000 to fight Sugar Ray Robinson, world's welterweight champion, in a non-title bout at International Ampitheatre, June 2.

Lefty Spahn Faces Only 28 Phillies

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Things are looking up for Billy Southworth and his Boston Braves after a week of disaster. Excellent pitching jobs by Warren Spahn, Red Barrett and Bill Voiselle have lifted the would-be contenders from the cellar gloom.

Spahn's first win of the season yesterday (Wednesday) marked the return to normalcy of Manager Southworth's gang. For Spahn and Johnny Sain, as 20-game winners last year, were expected to lead the Braves toward the 1948 flag. Spahn missed his first time out and Sain failed twice.

It was Voiselle's three-hit shutout of Brooklyn that yanked the Braves off the floor Monday. Barrett followed with a six-hitter Tuesday. Then came Spahn's two-hit gem against the Phillies.

Spahn's job was a real sparkler. He faced only 28 Phillies in his 7-0 victory, walked none and fanned four.

Johnny Vander Meer made it a lefthanded day in the National by stopping Chicago with six hits while his Cincinnati mates clubbed Johnny Schmitz and Don Carlsen for an 8-1 score on 12 hits.

MUELLER INJURED

There was bad news for Cincy, too. Catcher Ray Mueller fractured his right ankle sliding into home. He will be out for 60 days.

The New York-at-Brooklyn game was rained out but both clubs provided disturbing news. From the Giants came word that Catcher Walker Cooper, who has hit four homers, has a chip fracture on his left knee. He was injured April 21 but caught four of the last five games. He will be out several days.

Pitcher Harry Taylor of the Dodgers learned he may have to undergo an appendicitis operation. The hurler, who was to have faced the Giants yesterday, complained of severe stomach pains. He is being held in a hospital for further examination.

BROWNS BEATEN

Cold weather postponed the scheduled night game between St Louis and Pittsburgh in the National. In the American Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia and Cleveland at Chicago were called off because of cold, rain or wet grounds.

Detroit took the sole American league game, 9-4, over St. Louis with a 15-hit assault on four Brownie pitchers.

Indians Hope Layoff Didn't Affect Hitting

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Cleveland's red-hot Indians, still the only undefeated club in the major leagues, moved here today for a two-game series with the St. Louis Browns.

The tribesmen were forced to cool their heels for the second straight day yesterday as rain washed out an engagement with the Chicago White Sox and brought about a change in Manager Lou Boudreau's hurling plans.

Bob Lemon and Bob Feller will pitch the series against the Browns, with Lemon taking the hill today in search of his second triumph. His last assignment was Friday in Detroit when he beat the Tigers, 8 to 2.

LEMON AGAIN SUNDAY

Lemon might come back again Sunday against the Tigers in Cleveland, said Boudreau, who plans to use him with only two days of rest, provided he has an easy game tomorrow. Known as a rubber-armed hurler, Lemon can work with a minimum of relaxation between assignments.

Feller will be aiming for his third straight decision tomorrow and second over the Browns, whom he blanked in the season opener in Cleveland last week, 4 to 0. The Cleveland ace is not due to work again until the Indians open their first eastern tour at Philadelphia next Tuesday, but he will be available for relief duty Sunday.

Two Games Played In Ohio-Indiana

COLUMBUS—(UP)—The Ohio Indiana league was scheduled to get back in action tonight after rain forced postponement of two of last night's four scheduled games.

The Springfield at Zanesville and Richmond at Lima games were called off because of rain. In the two games that went on as scheduled, the Muncie Reds turned the tables on the Marion Cubs, 5 to 4; and the Portsmouth Athletics, newest entry in the circuit, scored their first victory by defeating the Newark Yankees, 4 to 3.

Experts May Swing Away From Citation, Jones Says Coaltown Is Ready To Run

By LEO H. PETERSEN

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(UP) A stable mate came up today to challenge the hottest betting favorite a Kentucky Derby has ever had.

All spring there hasn't been anything around that looked like a challenge to Calumet's star three-year-old Citation and the betting situation became such that a lot of bookmakers took the bay colt off the wagering lists

But there were indications today that that situation may change before 6 30 p. m. EDT Saturday—post time for the 74th annual running of the Derby—because of another Calumet speedster, Coaltown

GREAT WORKOUT

Coaltown, which never ran as a two-year-old because of a breathing ailment, has been picking up support gradually since his record-breaking win in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Friday It still was mushrooming today because of a sensational early morning workout yesterday

It was such a good one that even Ben Jones, who will be listed in the Derby records as the trainer of both the Calumet stars, wavered a little in what otherwise has been his firm belief that there isn't a three-year-old in the country that belongs on the same track with Citation.

Plain Ben still thinks Citation will get the blanket of roses Saturday, but now he feels that he will have a battle to do it.

"MAY DO IT"

"I never thought there was anything that could catch Citation, but after what Coaltown did yesterday, I'm beginning to believe that he might be able to do it"

Coaltown with his Derby jockey, Newbold Pierson up, went six furlongs in 1:12 2-5 and pulled up at a mile in 1:41.

"The track was very deep," Jones explained. "So his time of 1:12 2-5 was like 1:10 2-5 any place else.

"Coaltown is ready to run now."

Louisville bookmakers took the hint and were laying $5 against a bettor's $6 that the Calumet entry would run one-two.

There was some support for Billings and the chances were that he would go to the post second choice to the Calumet stars.

ONLY 3 OTHERS

Only three other horses in addition to Citation, Coaltown and Billings are sure bets to start They are Escadru, My Request the Wood Memorial winner, and Grandpere.

There still were two probables in the field—Galedo, which will go if the track is muddy, and Shy Guy. Shy Guy's trainer, Jack Hodgins, said, however, that he would recommend to owner Charles Fisher that the horse not be entered.

★

LOUISVILLE — (INS) — Said Coaltown's jockey, Leroy Pierson when he dismounted from yesterday's early morning workout:

"I'll beat that Arcaro so far on Saturday that he'll think he's still riding in the Chesapeake stakes, or the Derby trial."

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(INS)— Here are the probable starters in Saturday's 74th running of the mile and a quarter Kentucky Derby:

Horse	Jockey	Prob. Odds
Citation	E. Arcaro	1-10
Coaltown	N. L. Pierson	1-10
My Request	Doug Dodson	6-1
Escadru	Arnold Kirkland	12-1
Billings	Mel Peterson	20-1
Grandpere	Johnny Gilbert	20-1

All horses carry 126 pounds.

Vander Meer Is Old Self In 8-1 Victory Over Cubs

CINCINNATI — (AP) — It was like the days of old at Crosley field yesterday. John Henry Vander Meer pitched like the Vandy of some six years ago and, when he finished his mound chore, it was a six-hit job and Cincinnati had an 8-1 victory.

The Chicago Cubs were Vandy's victims and, although he fanned only three, the Redleg left-hander was in command throughout.

GOOD AS '39

Some observers considered Johnny's performance comparable with his form of 1941 and '42 when he won 16 and 18 games for the Reds. His speed, however, was not on a par with the 1938 season when he turned in two consecutive no-hit games.

Vandy's mound job was dimmed, however, by the club's loss for at least 60 days of catcher Ray Mueller, who suffered a fractured right ankle in scoring one of the Reds' runs.

Mueller's injury occurred in the fifth inning as he slid into the plate and his run broke a 1-1 tie.

The Redleg receiver had reached first on an error and then moved over to second as first sacker Ted Kluszewski beat out an infield hit.

Johnny Schmitz, the Chicago starter, threw wild to first attempting to catch Kluszewski off the sack and both runners advanced. Mueller came home on second baseman Bobby Amams' outfield fly and shortstop Virgil Stallcup counted Kluszewski with a single.

The Reds scored another run in the sixth and then iced the game with four counters in the next frame.

The St. Louis Cardinals came to Crosley field today for a two game set with Redleg Ken Raffensberger opposing Murry Dickson.
